Waltham High School

Waltham, MA 02154

A new beginning, a time to enter into a new school, a time to enter into maturity. We as sophomores entered high school with mixed emotions. The anxieties of making friends as well as keeping the old, adjusting to teachers and a different set of rules, almost seemed impossible to bear. The year went on and to our surprise the high school wasn't such a bad place after all. There were clubs, sports, activities and functions that helped to ease our fears and make the high school enjoyable.

The first highlight of our sophomore year was the election of our class officers. The choices were excellent, even though most of us didn't know them well. Bob Waters as our President worked well with the other officers to make it a great year. They scheduled dances, provided trips and held fund-raisers for the class finances.

The Homecoming rally was a thrilling experience. You could feel the school spirit fill the gym. The band performed songs for the occasion, the fall sports team captains and coaches gave speeches and the Homecoming King, Queen and court were announced. Jim Falzone and Linda Mele were elected as members of the court for our class.

In addition to these highlights the semi-formal on June 1, 1984 proved to be an exciting and enjoyable evening. Bob Waters and the other officers were mainly responsible for planning this event.

"YES WE'RE ALL HERE TODAY" Anna Leonelli, Karen Vergato, Tracey Feeney, and Darlene Boylan.

TANKA AND OUR GANG - Sue Pittorino, Antoinetta Caruso, Laurie Al-Banna, Sue Sliney, Matt Little, Karen Feeley, Dave Brown, Mike Mola, and Mark "Tanka" Cacciatore.

Along with the many highlights there were achievements also in our sophomore year. The Show Choir was chosen first place in a UNH competition, Marcelino Correa, Kevin Hill, Giselle LeBlanc, Aaron Perna, Julie Restagno and Brenda Woodland, members of our class were participants. Kevin Hill was also a member of the Jazz Choir which was chosen first-place at two other competitions that year. Scott Pomerleau an excellent and dedicated diver was second in the State for his diving talent.

Our sophomore year also saw the retirement of Housemaster Mrs. Alisca Czarnowski. Mrs. Czarnowski was an admired and helpful friend, who guided us through our first year at Waltham High.

WHO'S THE LUCKY GUY? Sheila Mooney.

Junior year started with the reminising of the summer months and memories of our sophomore year. We joined together with our friends and readied ourselves for the busy year ahead.

Mr. F. Joseph Levey took over as temporary housemaster, while still performing his duties as vice-principal.

Elections for our class officers were held early in the year. Lisa Cincotta was elected our new class president and began working very hard on planning events for the long year ahead.

Our Junior year saw the beginning of many new activities. Mr. Stephen Goodwin evoked a new interest in student government, as he became the advisor of Student Council and the Student Advisory Council.

Student Council became active, and started the Student Santa program and the Blood Drive. The Student Advisory Council became the voice for student concerns, and Jean Loughlin was elected the first chairperson.

Homecoming was still an enjoyable event for everyone. Gina Sliney and Bill Gamble were elected as members of the King and Queen's court for our Junior class.

After many long months of hard work and planning, the night of the Junior Prom March 30, 1985 had finally arrived. The Prom committee worked with President Lisa Cincotta and successfully organized an evening that was to be remembered by all. The theme of the night was, "Wishing on a Star." Dee-Dee Harris escorted by Phil Rando was chosen queen; Christine Duffy escorted by James Perry, and Karen Bibbo escorted by Bill Gamble, were elected as members of the Queen's court.

TURNING ON THE CHARM are Lynn Mazzocchi and Yvette Yegumians.

BASHFUL! Judy Clark

OUR HOMECOMING QUEEN Brenda Woodland getting a congratulations hug from her favorite teacher and friend Mr. McDonnell.

Sue Sliney was elected president of the Student Council in the spring of our Junior year. Sue looked forward to her year as President with much enthusiasm. We, as Juniors, knew that Sue would prove to us that she was the right choice and do her utmost for everyone.

Jodi Mitchell was appointed chairperson of the Student Advisory Council for the senior year. She worked well with the officers. Jodi is a highly respected person by students as well as faculty at the high school and it didn't take her long to gain the respect of the School Committee members. She attended many meetings and voiced the students' concerns.

SHARP DRESSED MAN Mr. Stephen Goodwin with The Student Council, Mary Jo Bazarian, Alyssa Lingos, Sue Sliney, Kirsten Rossner, Jean Loughlin, and Karen Feeley.

WRESTLING SEASON IS OVER, but nobody told Moe LaFort and Lisa Cincotta.

THAT'S DISCIPLINE MR. LEVEY! Keri Pierce, Lisa Smith, and Gina Sliney giving Mr. Levey their version of the story.

Mr. John Graceffa was appointed our housemaster and remained with us throughout our senior year. His enthusiasm as a housemaster was a great addition to our class. We will never forget his kind words and helpful advice. Most of all, his great sense of humor.

In May of 1985, seventeen students were inducted into the National Honor Society. Gina Caci was elected President for the year of 1985-1986. Gina was another student who possessed the quality of leadership. She planned many events that were to take place in our senior year.

Elections for the class officers of 1986 were held during the closing of our Junior year. The decision had to be made earlier than usual because there were many events that needed immediate attention. Andrea Ciampa was chosen as our president.

There were achievements in our Junior year as well as in our sophomore year. Scott Pomerleau was first in the State for diving, a great achievement for himself and others. Jeff Lazaro was chosen First Team Boston Globe All Scholastic in hockey in leading our hockey team to Suburban League Championship. Although the Show Choir did not place at the UNH competition, Brenda Woodland recieved an award for her vocal solo.

Junior year ended with the realization of returning to school in the fall as Seniors. It meant that we had one more year as high school students, and that it would be up to us to make it our best.

Senior year started early. In August everyone had their senior yearbook pictures taken.

FUN IN THE WOODS Steve Brown, Angela Orlando, Kevin Hill, Toni Agrillo, Janet Boudreau, Mary Kiesling, Julie Patenaude, Michelle Hache, and Jim Perry.

"WHERE'S THE BOSS?" Jon Childs, Charles Hamparian, Marty Crowe, Mike Dewey, Jamie Masterson, Alan Kaufman, Craig Doyle, Marc Magazu, and Mark Benson.

OPENING THE GATE TO WHS are Nancy Najarain, Michelle Geary, Kathy Giorlando, and Mary Hughes.

BOSOM BUDDIES! Alicia Keefe and Andrea Caissie.

YOU LOOK MARVELOUS! Lauren Downing, Dave Foucher, Dan Foucher, Ken Bishara, Paul Magno, Mark Crowley, and Alanna Juliano.

KEEP SMILING Michelle Sacco, Lyn Trombino, and Thelma Lank.

NO MR. G. WE'RE NOT LEAVING, T.J. Vazquez, Paul Beninati, Mark Girouard, and Joe Lamb.

The yearbook had already started to be in the making. Editor-in-Chief Brenda Woodland and co-editors, Marilu Bove and Laura Rancatore were chosen as the decision makers for our yearbook. Lisa Cincotta was chosen as Business Editor and the other staff members were chosen; Kevin Hill, Jodi Mitchell, Priscilla Nix, Kathy Pineau, and Nancy Robinson. Andrea Ciampa was the representative of the senior class officers to the yearbook staff. She helped immensely. Everyone worked hard to make the book the best ever. The yearbook of 1985 had won first place in New England during the fall. This was thier fifth time they had placed first in the competition with one second place in six years.

The National Honor Society accepted thirty-nine more students into their group. Although they were not inducted until the spring they worked very hard during the course of the year proving they were deserving members of the organization.

Homecoming had an added thrill this year because our football team was looking for it's eighth consecutive win. We had a great season and almost made it to the Super Bowl. John Logue and Brenda Woodland were chosen King and Queen.

The Student Council had a great year with Student Santa. Sixty or more children in need of gifts were added to their list from the year before. Homerooms and organizations poured out their hearts and money. The Student Santa drive was a success!

The National Honor Society held a phone-a-thon on January 19, 1986 at Hewlett Packard for the Heart Association. Their goal was only $2800 and they surpassed it by almost $800.

Senior Revue rehearsals started in the beginning of February. The students worked well with each other. In April the show was to go on. The theme says it all, "These Are The Best Of Times," for us it was the best time we ever had as a class working together.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE MELISSA!! Tim Labbe, Melissa Lampasona, and Bill Fredericks

Bermuda usually is the trip most Seniors went on. This year Mr. Poulten organized a trip to Florida during February vacation. His idea was great, because those that couldn't afford Bermuda got a chance to go on a Senior trip. It's certain both trips will be remembered for a very long time, as the students' experiences were fantastic.

The Senior Prom was held at Lombardo's in Randolph. The long awaited event was enjoyed thoroughly by all that attended. Andrea Ciampa and the class officers had worked especially hard to make it memorable and fun.

There were many achievements in our senior year. Roesanne Luvisi, our star viola player, was chosen to perform in the All-State orchestra, after travelling in Europe with the Greater Boston Youth Symphony orchestra in summer of 1985. Michelle Hache was accepted to the world touring, "Up With People," group, that performed during the half-time of Super Bowl XX. Michelle has decided to join with the group after she completes her sophomore year in college. We wish her all the best in her career.

Graduation was our final day. We were happy and sad at the same time. There would only be memories now to treasure. We had to look ahead at our futures and get ready to, "Spread Our Wings."

THREE'S COMPANY! Kari Donovan, Randy Banks, and Karen Bibbo.

When it came time to choose the yearbook dedications, we thought about those people most dedicated to the Class of 1986. Although there are many people who have helped us tremendously, we would like to give special recognition to two special people.

These two men have shown us their support by helping us in many ways. They have always been at school events which are special to us and have guided us through the past three years.

Mr. Anthony Piantedosi, a graduate of Waltham High Class of 1966, has always been a dedicated teacher and helpful friend. One can see Mr. P., as his students fondly call him, collecting money at the dances, helping with carnations, or cheering at our sporting events. Most of us became acquainted with him through classes in accounting or driver education.

After graduating from Waltham High School, Mr. Piantedosi attended Suffolk University where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration and a Master's in Education. He became a certified teacher in 1972 and began his teaching career at Waltham High School.

After school hours, he manages a part-time business, Piantedosi and Sons. His family includes his wife Susan and three sons; Paul, Brian, and Mark. During the summer months he coaches a little league baseball team at Nipper Maher Park.

This dedication is our way of thanking Mr. P. for all the long hours and hard work he has given on behalf of our class.

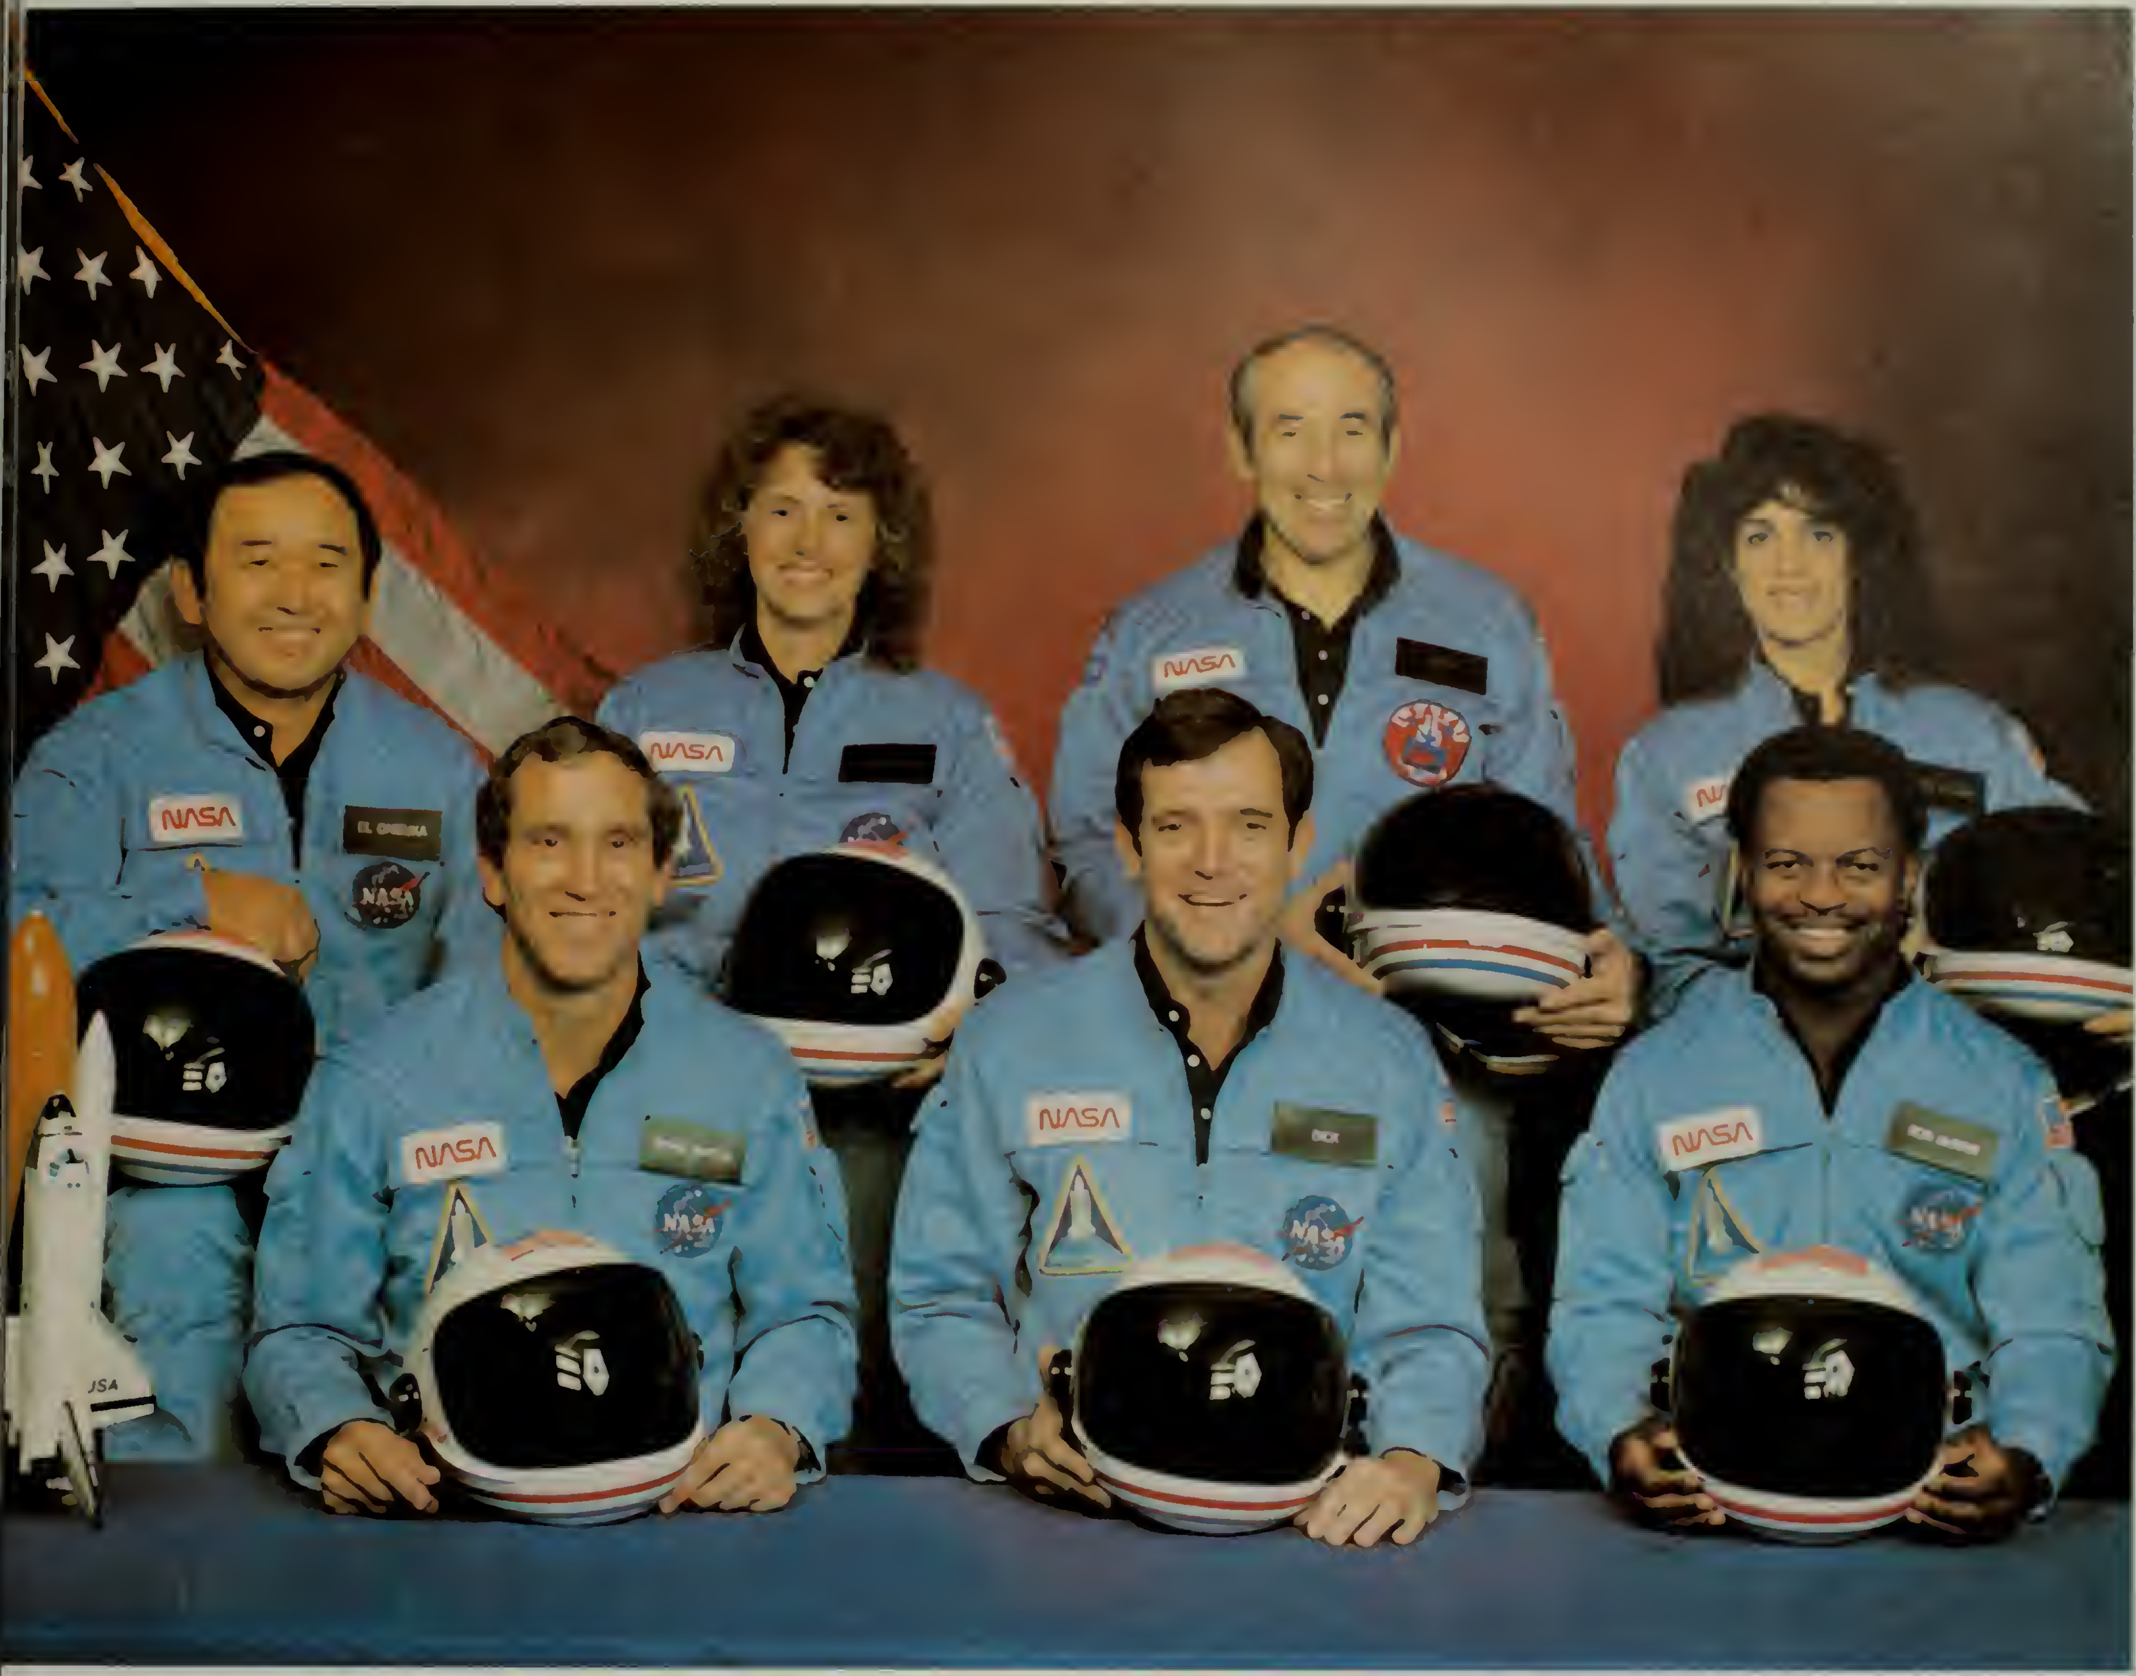
After the retirement of Mrs. Alisca Czarnowski and the temporary leadership of Mr. F. Joseph Levey, Mr. John Graceffa, former Social Studies teacher, confidently stepped into the position of Housemaster. Through his "Creative Housemastering" Mr. Graceffa proved to be a fine Administrator. He has encouraged new ideas and brought about class unity. He has also proven himself to be both competent and personable. On many occasions Mr. Graceffa has temporarily set aside his administrative duties to advise a student about a personal problem. It is for these reasons that we call him our friend.

President of the Waltham High School Class of 1966, Mr. Graceffa graduated "summa cum laude" from Springfield College with a Bachelor of Science and a Master's degrees in Education. Since his teaching career began at Waltham High School in 1973, he has been involved with coaching Boys' Varsity Soccer since 1974 and has held coaching positions for the basketball and tennis teams.

Outside of school, his interests include skiing, basketball, tennis, and golf. Besides his wife Judy, Mr. Graceffa has two sons, J.T. and Chris.

His dedication to making our time at Waltham High School memorable has been deeply appreciated, we will never forget our special friend.

By Jodi Mitchell



The best we can do is remember our seven astronauts - our Challenger Seven - remember them as they lived, bringing life and love and joy to those who knew them and pride to a nation.

They came from all parts of this great country - from South Carolina to Washington state; Ohio to Mohawk, N.Y.; Hawaii to North Carolina to Concord, N.H. They were so different, yet in their mission, their quest, they held so much in common.

We remember Dick Scobee, the commander who spoke the last words we heard from the space shuttle Challenger. He served as a fighter pilot in Vietnam, earning many medals for bravery, and later as a test pilot of advanced aircraft, before joining the space program. Danger was a familiar companion to Commander Scobee.

We remember Michael Smith, who earned enough medals as a combat pilot to cover his chest, including the Navy Distinguished Flying Cross, three Air Medals and the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry with Silver Star, in gratitude from a nation he fought to keep free.

We remember Judith Resnick, known as J.R. to her friends, always smiling, always eager to make a contribution, finding beauty in the music she played on her piano in her off hours.

We remember Ellison Onizuka, who, as a child running barefoot through the coffee fields and macadamia groves of Hawaii, dreamed of someday traveling to the moon. Being an Eagle Scout, he said, had helped him soar to the impressive achievements of his career.

We remember Ronald McNair, who said that he learned perseverance in the cotton fields of South Carolina. His dream was to live aboard the space station, performing experiments and playing his saxophone in the weightlessness of space. Well Ron, we will miss your saxophone; and we will build your space station.

We remember Gregory Jarvis. On that ill-fated flight he was carrying with him a flag of his university in Buffalo, N.Y. - a small token, he said, to the people who unlocked his future.

We remember Christa McAuliffe, who captured the imagination of the entire nation, inspiring us with her pluck, her restless spirit of discovery; a teacher, not just to her students but to an entire people, instilling us all with the excitement of this journey we ride into the future.

We will always remember them, these skilled professionals, scientists, and adventurers, these artists and teachers and family men and women, and we will cherish each of their stories - stories of triumph and bravery, stories of true American heroes.

Ronald Reagan on January 31, 1986

Hawks give a mighty effort

Fall 4 yards short of super bowl

The Hawks opened the season with a stunning upset over Lexington. Paul Mayberry led the defense in shutting down explosive Bart Graf and John Logue along with Jim Falzone led the offense in a 14-0 whitewash of the Minutemen.

The first scheduled night game was blown away by Hurricane Gloria and played on the following Sunday, a victory claimed by the educated toe of Dave Brown. Like the first game, it ended an opponent's long winning streak.

The third game was "lit up" by a win over Quincy under Leary Field's new lights. Next, top-notch Peabody, Brookline, Cambridge Rindge and Latin, and North Quincy succumbed to the feverish Hawk-a-mania.

For Homecoming, Waltham exploded to victory and a 8-0 record, still a candidate for the Super Bowl. Leary Field became a pressure cooker for the final home game, an especially emotional occasion for Coach "Tucker" Taranto who was inducted into Waltham's Athletic Hall of Fame that day. Tension caused some early mistakes, but a sparkling defense insured a 9-0 victory.

An untimely interception and horrible field conditions combined to force the Hawks to relinquish the Doc Cohn Trophy, but losses by two of the other three undefeated teams kept Super Bowl hopes alive. Thus the season finale meant a ticket to the Division 1 Super Bowl for the winners.

The traditional Thanksgiving contest against arch-rival Brockton was played on a cold, snowy morning, on the Boxers' soggy home turf. Snow turned to rain, as mud made jersey numbers indistinguishable. By game's end, a lone touchdown scored early in the fray stood as the deciding mark.

Although the scoreboard indicated that fate had favored Brockton, statistics told another tale. The defense held the eventual Super Bowl champs to their lowest point total of the season. Our offense amassed more total yardage than the Boxer's outstanding team. Thus, it was a proud team which exited the stadium to return to Waltham.

There was post-season pride as well. Scott Giusti and Paul Mayberry gained All-Scholastic honors, while Steve Duffy, Scott Figliolini, Jim Falzone, and John Logue became Suburban League All Stars. All in all, the 1985 season was a great one.

GETTING PSYCHED FOR THE GAME.

''MR. SOCCER'' Fred Romaine just might be the next Pele.

OUR HERO Mark Romanowski has a perfect form.

Injuries stop the hawks.

Fred scores 26 goals

Pity boys' varsity soccer coach John Graceffa. Sure, his Hawks were Suburban League Champs, but he graduated ten of eleven starters, plus most of the bench. Later he learned that "definite" starter David Steede would be unable to play due to medical reasons. This left Coach Graceffa with only two varsity holdovers.

Given such a situation, most coaches would have folded and called it a rebuilding year. But not Coach Graceffa he wanted to repeat as champs. From the first practice in August, he told his team that was to be their goal. For a while, it seemed attainable, as the young Hawks soared to 5-0, but then one by one injuries struck. Out for the season were junior halfback Stevie MacDonald and junior fullback Matt Gallagher. Others, such as Mike Kramer and Angelo Libertini played sporadically due to ailments. The results of all this were a constant shuffling of players and reassignment of positions. Still, the Hawks salvaged a .500 season going 8-8-2 for the year.

The 1985 soccer season featured something new at Waltham High; night games. It was the second of these night contests that proved to be the highlight of the boys' season; a tough 2-1 victory over arch-rival Brockton. Co-captain Angelo Libertini netted the game winner with ten minutes left. The other Hawk goal was scored by the man who was "Mr. Soccer" at Waltham High in 1985, Co-captain and M.V.P. Fred Romaine.

Fred, a native of Haiti, scored 26 goals, half the team's total. Coach Graceffa had high praise for Romaine, calling him "One of if not the best one-on-one that I've ever coached".

Many other seniors performed well. Co-captains Rick Mike and Angelo Libertini (winner of the distinguished Ken Hall Award) did a remarkable job leading such a young team. Mark Romanowski was a hero for a day, scoring both goals in a 2-0 shutout over Brockton. Martin Crowe filled in admirably at the injury riddled fullback position. Chris Kampe, who could play "anywhere on the field" helped out in many key games. Keeper Craig Doyle played "as good as he can play" in net against B.C. High. Tom Moran's hard work and aggressive play set up many scores. Both Ciro Maione and Mark Libertini were steady players who contributed to the team's success.

Girls show a lot of spirit.

Cheering is hard work.

The Waltham Fall Sports Cheerleaders had much enthusiasm and spirit. Cheerleading is a lot more than just spirit though, it takes tremendous dedication and work.

The cheerleaders start practices at summer's end. Many practices were held under the hot sun and the hard work started to pay off. By the first game they were ready. To start off the season a rally was held. A rally was also held to kick off the homecoming weekend. And what would a rally be without cheerleaders?

Cheerleading is not just looking nice and being peppy at a game. There's cheering at rallies, practices, and representing Waltham High wherever the game takes you and wearing a cheerleading jacket with pride.

The football cheerleaders gave candy bags to at least one senior football player. The bags were nicely decorated with expressions of spirit and pride in the team. Often the bags overflowed with candy. At the end of the season the football players received scrapbooks from the cheerleaders.

Cheerleading also means fund-raising. Candy bars etc. were sold to help support the squads and to help future squads.

The cheerleaders of both squads showed remarkable dedication once again. Cheering through games in the hot sun, rain, sleet, and cold (freezing cold). Although it's difficult to smile and look happy when your feet are numb, your hair has been plastered to your head by rain or the sun is so hot you feel faint, the cheerleaders always managed to achieve the task.

The soccer team's rebuilding season was helped by their cheerleaders undiminishing spirit. And the football cheerleaders shared in many victories with their team and also tried to ease the pain of the last two losses.

WHAT A HAWKER! - Lisa Smith.

Hawks sidetracked by Newton North.

Pam leads league in scoring.

Newton North - those two words spelled disappointment this year for the girls' soccer team keeping them out of the state tournament.

The girls got off to a decent start, posting a 5-3 record by mid-season, but some unlucky breaks and close games were the deciding factors in the end. In the last game of the season, a win or a tie against archrival Newton North could have put the team into the tournament, but it was not to be as the game was lost.

The season certainly did, however, have its up notes. Led by tri-captains Leslie Fernandes, Pam Vaughan, and Kirsten Rossner, Waltham managed to pull out a few close wins of their own. The Peabody, Brookline, and Cambridge games were all down to the wire with only one goal deciding Waltham as victor.

Pam Vaughan was the main catalyst for the success of the team. The playmaker, she was not only one of the best passers in the league, but could also put the ball in the net. She was the team's leading scorer with 29 points, tied for first in the league and was chosen as a Suburban League All-Star.

Leslie Fernandes also had her share of the goals up front. A great physical player, Fernandes' knack for being in the right place at the right time was a major element of her success as she continually put the ball in the goal for the Hawks. Her aggressive play was also a factor that led her to become a Suburban League All-Star.

The defense was powered by tri-captain Kirsten Rossner and senior goalie Janet Boudreau. Boudreau was the deciding agent in many of the close games and her clutch saves always kept the team on top.

Rossner anchored the defense with her steady, aggressive play. For these achievements and her leadership qualities and unselfish attitude she was rewarded with a Suburban League All-Star honor.

The middle of the field was dominated by seniors Angela Orlando and Brenda Tirone. The hustlers on the team, Tirone and Orlando were always the first to be back on defense when the Hawks were in trouble.

MaryJo Bazarian, Pam Alberico, and Laurie AlBanna were perhaps some of the most valuable assets of the team. They were the ones that were counted on when someone needed a break or got hurt. They worked hard, did their job and didn't complain. Their team spirit characterized this year's Waltham Girls' Soccer team.

Cross Country has tremendous progress.

A bright future is in store.

The future of the boys' cross country team looks bright. Even though the team's record was no wins and four losses (0-4), strong performances by freshmen Scott Harrington and Al Jones assure an auspicious future for the Waltham harriers.

The season began with an unfortunate loss to Brockton. Senior Steve Brown won easily though, and established a new course record in the process. Brown continued to dominate the Suburban League as he easily beat state-contender Barry Logan during Waltham's second meet against an ominous Newton North team. Brown, however, confronted misfortune two weeks later. During a Saturday morning pratice race Brown pulled his hamstring, which abrogated any aspirations Brown had for a top state meet performance.

The other team members enjoyed a season of fruition, though, as each individual watched his time drop signifigantly each meet. Other cross country members who provided valuable contributions were seniors Marc Magazu, Jeff DeCola, and juniors Pete Lally, Alan Penniman, and sophomore Eric Blackwelder.

Congratulations to the Waltham Cross Country team for their tremendous progress, and the zealous perseverance they demonstrated throughout the season.

Despite the finishing with a 3-3 dual meet record, the girls' cross country team had a most successful season. Two of the three losses were to Cambridge and North Quincy, who won the state titles in their respective divisions. The third loss came against Newton North, but was avenged in the Division 1 state championships when the girls edged Newton North by two points finishing 5th and qualifying for the state finals for the third time in six years, while knocking Newton North out of the championship race.

In addition to the teams' achievements, several individuals gained special recognition through their selection to the Suburban League All-Star team. They were juniors, Judith Linnehan, Lisa Giovanetti, and sophomore Precious Hill.

Further honors were bestowed on Precious Hill with her selection to the Boston Globe All-Scholastic team.

Grapplers pin ten opponents.

Paul Morreale places 2nd in state.

First year mentor Steve Devoe took the reigns of the Waltham Hawk matmen and lead them to a winning season. Although the team only had four returning varsity members, the Hawks had a 10-5 record and placed tenth in the state.

The grapplers started off their season with a big win under their belt by devastating Framingham North. This early victory helped build confidence and prepare the Hawks for the Holiday Tournaments. Senior Co-Captain Paul Morreale had an outstanding day and captured first place in his weight class at the Lowell Tournament. Following the tournament the Hawks hit some stiff competition. Matching up with powerhouses like Chelmsford, Winchester, and Lowell. At the close of January they only needed to beat archrival Brockton to clinch the Suburban League. It was neck and neck throughout the match, but with three key losses in the upper weight classes the Hawks fell short of the title. They wrapped up the year with three straight victories to finish the season with a winning record.

Paul Morreale cleaned house at the Sectionals Tourney winning first place and capturing "Most Outstanding Wrestler." He was also voted Globe All-Scholastic and made first team All-Suburban. He finished the season with a 11-0-1 record, and placed second in New England Tournament. Co-Captain Chris Sullivan placed third in the Sectionals at 169 pounds and finished off the year with a 7-4 record. He was awarded the "Coach Passarini Enrichment Award" for his excellent performance throughout the season.

Other seniors who contributed immensely to the teams were Eric Keough, Chuck Dunne, Mike Mola, Frank Arricale, and Moe LeFort. Eric was a great asset to the team with an 11-2 record. Throughout the season he came up with key wins to give the team many needed points. At the banquet Eric was awarded "Most Improved Wrestler" for his outstanding performance. Chuck Dunne received the "110% Award" for his non-stop hustle attitude. Every time Chuck stepped on the mat he gave it his all, and whether he won or lost he came out a winner. Mike Mola was in a tough weight class and had a rough start at the beginning of the year. But he hung on tough and ended up with four straight pins at the close of the season. Frank Arricale received "The Senior Award" at awards night for adding enthusiasm to the team during practices and matches. Moe LeFort saw a season of changing weight classes. His ability to jump from 169 to 187 pounds aided the team to a successful year.

In the end the seniors had matured because of their involvement in the wrestling program.

Coachless start ends in successful season.

Records shattered as season progressed.

When the returning swimmers discovered that they were without a coach for the start of the season the outlook for the swim team was dim. The schedule had to be changed, as the girls were forced to postpone their first meet. But with the help of the team member's mothers, and the girls' old coach Jack MacDonald the search began for a new coach. Fortunately we found Coach Lee Carroll, and Assistant Coach Liz Poisson. They instilled a feeling of team unity and confidence right from the start.

The girls had one of their strongest seasons in past years. The closest meets with Burlington and Brookline may have resulted in victory, had it not been that Waltham didn't have any divers. Therefore, the meets resulted in a tie and a loss since each team gained thirteen points from the diving event.

Highlights from the season included the Brookline meet in which fifteen personal records were broken and Newton North where nine personal records were set. Newton North was also the sight of Marie Comeau's record breaking backstroke (114.75). The Waltham High School record was set in 1973 (114.98). Marie also shattered this time at the Suburban League meet, where she finished fifth with a 113.

This was also the first time the girls competed at the North Sectional Championship in several years.

The injury jinx strikes the Hawks

Matt and Nelson have great years.

After the first month of the season it looked as if the boys' basketball team was headed for the state tournament. The Hawks were victorious in seven of their first ten contests. The victories did not come easily as the Hawks had to work hard for every win. Throughout the season Waltham showed their hustle and determination in comeback victories against Arlington and North Quincy and in close defeats as well. However, the momentum came to an abrupt halt after their last victory against Quincy. High scorer Matt Little was sidelined with a nagging thigh injury and Coach Joe Cacciatore went down with pneumonia at the same time. Unfortunately for Waltham they could not pick up for the slack and it was easy to see the team was greatly affected by these setbacks. Waltham's record dropped form 8 wins 4 losses to 8 wins 10 losses after losing their last six games.

Big Men Nelson Aviles and Matt Little did the majority of the scoring and rebounding for the Hawks. Their efforts led to their being named Suburban League All-Stars. John Logue took his leadership from the football field to the basketball court and aided the team with his outside scoring touch. John Ventura did the bulk of the ballhandling and did some scoring when the Hawks needed him to. Tri-Captain Dan Swenson was the scrappy off-guard for most of the season and helped the team with his quickness. Part time starter Dave "Otis" O'Toole did any job he was called upon to do. At a big height disadvantage, he was able to either draw a foul or score the basket. Underclassmen Steven MacDonald and Matt Gallagher contributed their abilities in key situations for most of the season. Both over six feet, they did a good job filling in for the injured Matt Little. Dan Craig gave it his all whenever he was on the court and was tough on the inside. Paul Benninati worked hard all season and his nice outside jump shot helped the Hawks.

THE GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

PUTTING THE BALL IN PLAY is Kirsten Rossner.

Girls experience a tough rebuilding year.

Girls show great spirit.

The 1985-86 edition of girls' basketball at Waltham High saw seven seniors contribute to the development of the younger players in what can be termed "a rebuilding year." Despite a lack of height and experience, the girl hoopsters showed great spirit and determination in the tough Suburban League. Individual standouts were co-captains Pamela Vaughan and Leslie Fernandes who were both named to play in the league All-Star Game. Vaughan gathered most of the headlines as she was named to the First Team All-Suburban League point guard. Pam also was second in the league in scoring (18.0 ppg), runner-up as the league MVP, and a member of the prestigious Agganis All-Star Team.

On the horizon is a talented group of younger players that appear ready to step into the role of leading the Hawks back into title contention. Stay tuned . . . the Hawks will be back!

Girls show lots of spirit.

Both squads were energetic.

During the winter season the hockey and basketball cheerleaders encouraged enthusiasm and spirit for the Hawks and their fans. The cheerleaders never exhibited doubt that the teams wouldn't rise to victory. Some Friday afternoons students and faculty gathered in the gym for pep rallies. The cheerleaders entertained the crowd with cheers and skits which inspired the hockey and basketball players for a successful game that night.

Donna Luciano, captain of the hockey cheerleaders, showed discipline and good qualities of leadership. She always smiled and boosted the morale for all the members of the squad.

Tri-captains Laurie Al-Banna, Lisa Puglielli, and Andrea Rando of the basketball cheerleaders also helped the squad maintain higher goals. This year was a special one for the basketball cheerleaders. They were selected from various cities across Massachusetts to compete in a tournament held by Warner Bros. for the movie Wildcats. Though the squad came in third place out of five the girls had a lot of pleasure participating in the event and also found it an honor.

Both squads were energetic, vivacious, and full of spirit. They had fun bringing the fans and their friends together to join in the excitement of the event.

A long uphill struggle.

Hawks finish second in division.

With the loss of five seniors from last year's State Champions the Waltham High ski team faced a long uphill battle to rebuild this year. With patience and dedication coach Ken Vaughan led the inexperienced Hawks to a second place finish in their division.

This accomplishment qualified six boys for the State Championships. Mark Gaeta, the ski team's captain, earned enough points throughout the year to compete in the state championship as an individual. The other five boys who participated in the states were Rob Hazel, Bill Corcoran, Bob Breton, Tom Burke, and Eric Weston.

With only four seniors graduating from this year's team and a strong nucleus returning coach Ken Vaughan and the Hawk's skiiers are looking forward to next year.

OUR CO-CAPTAIN Mark Bourgeois.

The start of the 1985-86 Waltham High Hockey Season brought on many changes for the Hawk iceman. The season began with John Maguire replacing Peter Yetten as head coach (only the third head hockey coach in the history of Waltham High). However, Maguire was no stranger to WHS hockey having previously served as an assistant coach under Peter Yetten and also as a player during Yetten's first two years of coaching.

Coach Maguire was left with a tough act to follow, as the '84-'85 team had been Suburban League Champs. The nine seniors who graduated from this team took with them the bulk of the team's scoring punch. Maguire was left with returning seniors, (who are considered the best defense in the Suburban League), three new seniors, and a group of underclassmen which he was to mold into a team.

Captains Mark Bourgeois and Jeff Lazaro united this young team and led them through a difficult rebuilding season with the help of seniors Don Archibald, Marty Provencher, Kevin Johnson, and Bobby LeBlanc. Mark and Jeff were the team leaders on and off the ice. They led the team in scoring with 44 and 24 points respectively, and were superb on defense. This season they were also called upon to generate more goals by playing a few shifts per game at forward, which they both did extremely well.

Last season Jeff was chosen as a Boston Globe first-team All Scholastic defensemen, a Hockey night in Boston All-Star and a Suburban League All-Star. This season he was selected as one of the 15 members of the elite Team Massachusetts, he was a Hockey night in Boston first-team All-Scholastic defenseman, a Boston Globe second-team defenseman, ana a Suburban League All-Star.

Last season Mark was also a Hockey night in Boston All-Star, as well as a Suburban League All-Star. This season Mark again proved he was truly a Suburban League All-Star.

Don Archibald, in his third consecutive starting season as the varsity goaltender, again showed WHS how talented he is. He was a solid performer in the Hawk net, earning his second Suburban League All-Star award. Don was also a Hockey night in Boston All-Star.

The Hawks also received solid performances from seniors Marty Provencher, Kevin Johnson, and Bobby LeBlanc. Marty was a major contributor on the Waltham attack, constantly working hard for the team. Kevin, joining the icemen from the Vocational High School, was a reliable face-off man and a forward the team could always count on. Bobby, also joining the team from the Vocational this year, was the "digger" of the team. Although a smaller player, Bobby would constantly put the team before himself.

Although the six seniors along with the underclassmen were one point shy of making the tournament, this season nevertheless, had its moments too. The highlight of the season came when Waltham beat Brockton, in Brockton, 5-2. In the '84-'85 season Waltham suffered its only two losses to Brockton, but thise season the squad gained revenge for their predecessors.

Congratulations to the Hawks on a fine season and a hearty "good luck" to the upcoming teams.

If team spirit, dedication, and camaraderie are any indication of success, this year's boys' swim team leads the pack! Although their season's record did not indicate it, lone win over Quincy by forfeit, the team was alive with hard workers and individual talent that brought victories of different kinds to the boys.

Seniors and tri-captains Dan Miele, Ed Anthos, and Scott Pomerleau were a strong anchor for the team, along with fellow seniors Steven Bolio and Enzo DiNitale. Ed and Scott put in extra time with the Havard Gators swim team, which further benefited Waltham.

Many school records were set and broken this year, particularly by the seniors. For senior personal goals, Dan Miele succeeded in breaking one minute in the 100 yard freestyle, a truly admirable achievement. Scott Pomerleau, Waltham's star diver, placed first in both the Suburban League and the State for diving. Steve Bolio finished second in the league and fifth in the state for diving. As a group, Steve, Scott, and Ed, along with extremely talented sophomore Josh Peterson (who swims with the competitive barracudas in his sparetime), made an impressive showing at the State meet. The foursome set an unofficial school record in the 400 yard freestyle relay, helping Waltham achieve the position of tenth in the State.

Despite the regular season's record, Coach John Duffy inspired the team to many close meets. In fact, Waltham ended the league season as sixth in the league, due to the efforts of every team member.

Newly elected captain for 1987, junior Dave Gibbs, will lead an up-and-coming talent-ridden team which will include junior Jon Williams, sophomores Dan Lynnworth, Josh Peterson, Mike Murphy, and Jeff Miele. We wish them all the luck in carring on the unbeatable spirit and efffort of this year's swim team.

Success hungry team goes 4 - 2

Precious finish first in division 1

This year's indoor track team, led by captains Suzanne Pittorino and Karen Feeley, experienced a very successful season marked by Suburban League All-Stars the Division I Championship meet and members of the team going to the All-State finals.

As if finishing with a 4-2 record in the Suburban League wasn't enough for this success-hungry team, the girls counted among their ranks more distinguished individuals than ever. Suburban League All-Stars from Waltham this year were senior Suzanne Pittorino, junior Judith Linnehan, and sophomore Precious Hill, all very talented runners who participate in track during the whole year.

In the Division I Championships, Waltham showed its true colors, with Judith Linnehan placing fourth in the 2-mile run and Precious Hill beating the whole pack, with a first place finish in the 1000-yard run. Both of these champions went on to qualify for the All-State finals.

The State meet was led in many events by our fantastic team members. The 4x880 relay team finished first, consisting of Judith, Precious, Karen Feeley, and Lisa Giovanetti. Finally, the sprint medley team finished fifth in the meet. Running in this event were Suzanne Pittorino, juniors Maureen Florio and Julie Clarke, and freshman Michelle English.

Overall, the team had an outstanding season, and should be proud. The whole school will be watching superstars Judith Linnehan, Lisa Giovannetti, and Precious Hill as they and the other returning underclassmen (or underclasswomen, rather!) uphold the strong tradition of track in Waltham next season.

EXTENDING THE LEAD is Jamie Masterson.

Best season in a long time.

Matt Little leads the way.

This year's Waltham High golf team experienced its best year in quite some time. Under second year coach Joe Connelly the Hawks finished the season with a winning record. The season was highlighted by a victory over Brockton (which is a rare feat for the Hawks in any sport). This was the first time the Hawks defeated Brockton in nine years. This year's team was led by senior Matt Little whose overall ability and leadership will be greatly missed next year. Also graduating this year will be senior Phil Rando.

With a large contingent of experienced players returning next season, Coach Connelly is looking forward to a banner year for Waltham High golf.

Girls push hard toward their goal.

Court performance vastly improved

The Waltham High Girls Volleyball team had been looking for a big victory this year. Though their goals were not achieved, they accomplished a great deal on an individual basis. The final record showed two wins and sixteen losses.

This year the team had a new coach, Dave Simione. Although all the girls returned from the team last year, Dave had a tough job ahead of him. With determined zeal, he got right to work with the team. Importing new approaches and strategies, Coach Simione and the girls pushed themselves towards completion of their goal. The result was that the court performance improved by at least fifty percent.

Returning veterans were Seniors Julie Patenaude, Lynn Burgess, Kathy Pineau, and Co - Captains Sandra Plourde, and Andrea Ciampa. Senior, Janet Diaz, also joined the team as well as juniors Diana Pallone, Lana Jurigian, and Nancy Steinberg. The girls worked together very well, especially since they had all been playing for three years.

When the seniors graduate in June, the team next year has to put in extra time to advance in the league. Coach Dave Simione has already informed the Junior Varsity team that they have to earn a spot on the team next year; they just won't move up because they're next in line. So good luck to the Varsity team next year and to the Seniors, in their future endeavors.

Team qualifies for state tourney.

The Waltham High Baseball Team went beyond all expectations this season, as it remained in contention for the Suburban League title until the end of the season. Predicted to be just a .500 ball club, the Hawks qualified for the State Tourney with a record of 13-7.

With only four returning seniors, much of the offense which sparked last year's team was missing. The season started with a non-league win over Watertown. The Hawk victories continued with strong pitching from seniors Dave Brown and Jim Gangi, but the bats remained quiet. It wasn't until the Suburban League opener against Quincy that the team showed its true batting potential. The team became a dominant force losing just one game to Cambridge and two, one-run decisions, games to Suburban League Champs, Brockton.

Waltham advanced to the State Tournament. In the opening round the Hawks were routed by Beverly 14-1 in a rain shortened game. Jim Gangi, with a record of 6-1, was named Outstanding Pitcher. Senior Dave O'Toole was given the Coaches Award for his dedication to the team, and Tri-Captain John Logue was named the team M.V.P. Juniors Bill Chiasson and Mike Ryan were cited for their batting and fielding ability. Sophomore catcher Jerome Fuller was named "Unsung Hero". Chosen to the Suburban League All-Star Team were: Dave Brown, Bill Chiasson, Jim Gangi, Jeff Lazaro, and John Logue.

Senior participants were: Dave Brown, Dave Cristofori, Jim Gangi, Scott Giusti, Jeff Lazaro, John Logue, Paul Maybery, and Dave O'Toole.

With a very successful season under their belts, Coach Salvo and the Waltham Girls' Softball Team should head happily into summer! Finishing the season with a 10-6 overall record and an 8-4 record in the Suburban League placed them second in the league, an accomplishment to be highly regarded.

Individuals as well as team achievements ran high this year, particularly by the seniors, with talent that outshone most other years. Tri-captains Leslie Fernandes, Pam Vaughan, and Sandra Plourde were all chosen as Suburban League All-Stars, along with star pitcher Brenda Hart, whose team record of 8-4 made her a force to reckon with in the Suburban League. Leslie was also a Globe All-Scholastic candidate, and Pam held the team's batting title wtih a .442 average and 23 hits for the season. Senior outfielder Michelle Hache was chosen as a second team Suburban League All-Star.

The spirit, dedication, and talent of the rest of the seniors was unparalleled this year. MaryJo Bazarian, Jeannie Loughlin, Kirsten Rossner, Brenda Tirone, and Carolyn White, whose high commitment and teamwork were instrumental in the team's continued success, were the "unsung heroes".

Working together, the Waltham team qualified for the state tournament, only to lose an arduous but finally heartbreaking game to Chelmsford in the preliminary round, 18-13.

Although most members of the team were graduating seniors, returning veterans from all classes will anchor the team next year. Juniors Janet Cloherty, Dina Pallone (who was chosen this year as a second team Suburban League All-Star), and Regina Marchant will return, along with sophomore Cheryl Keane and freshmen Lynne Dempsey and Linda Tuppe, to carry on the winning spirit of this year's successful team.

A brave and valiant effort

Team shows Hawk spirit.

The Waltham High lacrosse team gave a brave and valiant effort in the 1986 season. Lead by tri-captains Stephen Duffy, Chuck Dunne, and Paul LeBlanc, the Hawks managed to produce a 3-11 record. Although posting a somewhat disappointing record, the team displayed a great amount of talent, experience, flexibility, and never-ending Hawk spirit.

Even before the onset of the season, the team experienced a host of difficulties. The loss of potential players contributed greatly to the heart breaking matches to follow.

Those remaining players deserve our respect and appreciation for their dedication and determination for the sport. Stephen Duffy had the ability to play both defense and attack when needed and as tri-captain he showed leadership and spirit.

The multifacited Chuck Dunne was able to replace numerous players at a moments notice and still fulfill the teams needs. Paul LeBlanc used his size and athletic talent to hold the Hawk defense together. Brian Long gave strong play at the mid-field position. Rob Morvillo was a great help on defense. Dan Reynolds split his duties between goal and mid-field. Juniors Steven Wright, Rich LeBlanc, and John Kavey were the overall leading scorers and will be a great influence on the 1987 lacrosse team.

Under the helm of new coach, Rich Cacciatore, the Hawks will ultimately succeed in the future. He expects the next season to be a rewarding year.

Senior performers; Jon Childs, Mark Magazu, Mark Benson, Charlie Hamparian, Isaac Shocron, Mike Dewey, and Craig Doyle all assisted in making their season fun. The achievements are endless.

And the numbers prove it.

The statistics are endless. The names are familiar. Once again, a Waltham track team, this time outdoor track, has blown away all opposition, with the numbers and the achievements to prove it.

The regualar season as usual, was a winning one, a 4-2 record qualifying the team for the Division 1 championships. The focal point of the regular season, and perhaps the closest Waltham loss ever, was the Newton North meet, which ended with the unbelievable score of 64-63, chalk one up for Newton North.

However, Newton North can never hold a candle to the dedication of the individuals on our team, led by tri-captains Karen Feeley, Suzanne Pittorino, and Alyssa Lingos. Three juniors and one sophomore were chosen as Suburban League All-Stars: Ann Marie Mazzochi for discus, Judith Linnehan for the one-mile, Lisa Giovanetti for the two-mile, and Precious Hill for the high jump and the 880.

After the regular season, it was on to the Division 1 championships for Waltham, where the team really showed off. Judtih placed fifth in the mile, Precious placed an outstanding first in the 880, Lisa Giovanetti placed fifth in the two-mile, and the list continues. Junior Kim Savage came in fifth in both the hurdles and the javelin, and sophomore Alison Lobo showed up sixth in the javelin. Of these girls, Precious Hill qualified for the All-State finals and finished fourth in the 880 there.

Other key meets included the State coaches' meet, where Judith came in third in the mile and Precious placed high in the high jump. Finally, the State relays at Andover found Waltham's distance medely team finishing first, made up of Karen Feeley, Lisa Giovanetti, Judith Linnehan, and Precious Hill. Here, also, the discus team, consisting of Ann Marie Mazzochi, sophomore Katie Tamashunas, and freshman Karen Shamphe finished first.

With so many of these athletes returning next year, its certain that 1987 will equal or beat 1986 in terms of wins and accomplishments. Best of luck, team!

Dedication and loyalty

Working on the yearbook this year was very much like a roller-coaster ride. It was exciting, but it was far from a smooth ride. The book started taking shape in August of '85 when we chose our theme, but then it took a long time getting up the first hill and into the flow. First we had trouble getting our opening writeup, then we had trouble getting ads. In each case one of our staff members took the bull by the horns and did what had to be done. First by spending three days and nights doing our opening writeup which was already a month late and second by going out to get ads. This was the dedication and loyalty that I was looking for. In March I made a decision that I should have made sooner and decided to reward Brenda Woodland by making her Editor-In-Chief. This was the push we needed to go over the first hill and into the ride.

First the ads started coming in. Brenda broke Roni Sue Pomerleau's record for ads in 1 year $1,500 by getting $3,750. Then one by one everything fell into place and doing the yearbook became fun. Only once before has one person been called on to do so much. The Class of '86 graduated on June 1st, but Brenda was still attending school daily putting the book first and the results have been incredible. I feel that this book is artistically and technically the best book I have ever worked on. The layouts are excellent, we have good headlines, a strong theme, excellent captions, overall a very sound book. This book would be considered an excellent book for a college book, but to think that it was the work of an 18 year old girl is incredible. There is no position or sport in Waltham High that demands as much from one individual or gives as much life long satisfaction as the yearbook does. Brenda, you know that I am very proud of you and all you have accomplished. This book would never have been a success without you and don't you ever underestimate your role in its success. A roller-coaster ride is more fun when you share it with someone. Thanks for sharing it with me.

In May of my junior year I was asked to do a writeup on the Junior Prom, that's where it all started! In the beginning of the senior year I was asked to be a Literary Editor. I was eager to work and ready to put in my ideas. Mr. Mac recognized this and it was then he asked me to come down to the yearbook office during my free periods to help out. I did some work on the book, but because the other members of the staff were reluctant to let me do anything major I ended up becoming very close to Mr. Mac.

We learned a great deal about each other. When he was having a bad day I cheered him up and visa versa. We also shared our happy moods. When he went in front of the School Committee I was there with him. He was my friend. He supported everything I did and I supported what he did. We never asked anything from each other. We had one thing in common; the yearbook. In March when he asked me to take over as Editor-In-Chief it took me all of 2 seconds to accept. In the end it was just him and I. I know the other staff members helped or offered to help, but I don't think they could ever understand how much time and effort it takes. Also, they could never understand the friendship we shared.

In the beginning I did this book for the Class of '86 and I hope some day they will appreciate it. In the end Mr. Mac I did it for YOU. Thanks for believing in me!

John And Brenda Crowned King And Queen . . .

A royal experience

The Homecoming festivities began early on November 8th with a pep rally that increased school spirits and also crowned this year's king and queen.

Brenda Woodland was chosen Homecoming Queen and her prospective escort was John Logue. Their court consisted of Juniors Jennifer Tiano and John Mione, Sophomores Debbie Falzone and Rich Vitale, and Freshmen Jennifer Jordan and John Mola. The football and soccer cheerleaders added to the excitement of the afternoon by presenting their traditional cheers and routines with help from the marching band. A guest appearance by various members of the faculty also added to the fun. The female teachers appeared as "football players" and performed their concept of a tackle while the male teachers revealed their better sides as "cheerleaders" performing strategic routines.

The highlight of the rally occured when the tri-captains of the football team were blindfloded and asked to guess which member of the Royal Court was kissing him. The three players were extremely surprised to find their mothers in their arms when the blindfolds were removed.

Yet the fun did not end here. The next day a fleet of 13 decorated vehicles and a horse drawn carriage carrying Brenda and her court participated in a parade as part of the opening ceremony to celebrate Waltham's battle with Medford.

In honor of the Hawks' victory over the Mustangs, The Homecoming Dance was held in a decorated cafeteria that evening after the game. Brenda and her court finalized their royal reign after appearing at the dance in luxurious gowns and sparkling crowns. No one could help but be filled with school spirit as they stood in a room full of red and white streamers, excited individuls, and great music.

. . . First in Billerica Invitationals . . .

An outstanding year

The 1985 season saw the Show Band compete successfully in competition for the first time in the schools history. First, we competed in the Billerica Invitationals where we came in first place and took all four major trophey categories, Best Music, Best Color Guard, Best Drum Line, and Best Drum Major. Next, we went to the University of Lowell Competition where we took second. Here we put on another fine performance and we improved our scores. Based on our standings at these competitions we were invited to the Woonsocket Competition in Rhode Island where we finished third, raising our scores once again. Because of our performaances in the competitions the band was invited to play in the Citrus Bowl Music Festival in Florida in December of 1986.

This year the band included as its selections Seahawk, Drum Solo, and Can You Read My Mind arranged by Peter Lancto. In Seahawk, a challenging piece, we were able to see and hear the talent in many of our senior members of the band. They included Dave Foucher and James Spear as our lead saxaphone players. Brian Long, Ara Stepanian, and Mark Crowley also contributed greatly to our sax section. Out of our many fine trumpet players we saw the skills of Tony Mele and Gregg Summerhayes stand out. Our low brass section has two fine musicians in Gino Tracanna and Steven Monahan.

Our next chart was our drum solo which featured two outsanding snare drummers in Jeff DeCola and Joe True while the rest of the band performed intricate moves.

Our final piece was Can You Read My Mind where we heard the fine solos of Lauren Downing on euphonium and Paul Magno on trombone.

Another song which was played on occasion was the Musician which featured another pair of soloists playing trumpet. They were Alanna Juliano and Dan Foucher.

The band would not be complete without a colorguard. This year the Color Guard was with the talents of Rosanne Luvisi, one of the more experienced members of the colorguard.

Our success could not have been achieved without the talents of Brent Ferguson, Doreen Rivard and Louis Prosperi, our instructors.

Love Is In The Air

The excitment in the cafeteria began a few weeks before Carnation Day. Freshmen through seniors occupied their thoughts with visions of future Valentines. Many individuals were busy deciding who their lucky admiree's would be.

The Student Council, for the first time ever, took charge of the Carnation Drive. Student Council Treasurer Alyssa Lingos, under the administration of Mr. Piantedosi and Mr. Goodwin, remained busy appointing various volunteers to the advertising, selling, cutting, counting, and distributing of carnations. The volunteers consisted of Student Council and National Honor Society members, class officers and other chosen individuals.

Many high school and vocational school students waited until the last minute to buy carnations, but this only added to the romantic atmosphere of Valentine's Day. Some students purchased red carnations for those they loved while others bought white to let that certain someone know they cared. For those who weren't quite sure, pink carnations were available carrying the message "I like you".

The entire Carnation Drive was very successful! Approximately 10,000 carnations were sold and the Student Council was able to triple their profits from the previous year. Over $5,000 was raised from the Carnation Drive for senior scholarships.

The emotional aura created by the day was one of pure love. A tantilizing floral scent could be smelled in every classroom and the excitement of the flower-owners increased as the day went on. The day became a memorable occasion for all! Whether the memories are contained within a dried flower or a saved card is not substantial because the memories of this Valentine's Day will linger forever in the hearts of those who participated.

NHS is very active.

This year, there were fifty-six seniors in the National Honor Society. Under the leadership of Gina Caci (President), Mark Benson (Vice-President), Christine Duffy (Treasurer), and Marie Comeau (Secretary), the National Honor Society took part in many worthwhile activities. Throughout the year, most of the NHS members provided academic help to their peers in a tutorial program at the high school. Some even got involved tutoring at the elementary schools. At Christmas time, students volunteered to serve a dinner for the retarded. Honor Society students also helped needy children have a "Merry Christmas" by collecting approximately 600 toys in the "Student Santa" program. In January, the Honor Society organized a phonathon for the American Heart Association. Almost $3000 was raised, more than any other school in the Greater Boston area. The annual Used Toy Drive to benefit the Salvation Army, was also a big success. In addition to these activities, the Honor Society students were always willing to help out at various school activities. At the end of the school year, the NHS and the Student Council held their 1st Annual Banquet at the historic Paine Estate. Dining in the beautiful mansion was a fitting way to end a very productive year.

Show Choir finishes first at U.N.H. . . .

The Power of Love

The Waltham High School Show Choir began this year with a car wash in October. Since we are fully responsible for funding our own performances, the car wash enabled us to raise enough money for risors which we desperately needed.

Our first performance as a group was at North Easton. There the package included "Streets of London", "Johnny B. Goode", and "Shine Down" accompained with our new found friends from Stoughton. Although our performance went well, we realized that we had a long way to go. With the help of Sue Chebookjian, 1982 Editor-In-Chief, and many Monday and Wednesday night rehersals, we were able to put together a new package which was more impressive than those of previous years.

Our first competition was at the University of New Hampshire on March 22nd. With a lot of new members we began our trip to U.N.H. with many excited and anxious people. After arriving we met friends from other groups and began to scrutinize our competition, soon it was our turn to perform. While in the wings we were introduced and received a thunderous applause, We then ran on stage, smiles beaming and began our plight toward victory. Our new package included "Listen to the Music", "Full Circle", "Streets of London" with Jill Scalisi and Scott Perry as soloists. "Singing in the Rain" and an enthralling finale of "Power of Love". After we had finished we danced off the stage and the crowd roared with approval. We knew we had done well. The rest of the afternoon was filled with anticipation once again. When it was time to find out who won, we all gathered in the auditorium. Tension built in the room between Agawam and Waltham. After what seemed to be an eternity, the two announcements were made, and there was a tie for first between Agawam and Waltham. Also, an outstanding soloist award was given to Scott Perry. The thrill of being Number 1 can never be taken away from us; and it will be something that we will always treasure.

To most these are mere nonsense syllables, yet to the twelve members of the Jazz Choir they represent "Scat Singing", just one facet of their performance.

The Jazz Choir, formed three years ago on a whim to attempt a different style of music, has achieved much success. Highly selective, this group rehearses on their own time perfecting its tight harmonies, balance, blend, intonation, and dynamics. The group gears its efforts towards competing at such competitions as the All-State Jazz Competition and the UNH Jazz Festival. All of the members contributed to the group's success at these competitions.

Included in this group are seniors Brenda Woodland, Christine O'Connell and junior Jeannene Forbes singing soprano; altos include Toni Agrillo, Janet Boudreau, Michelle Hache, Rochelle Johnson, and Angela Orlando; tenors include Kevin Hill and Artie Lynch; and the bass section was held down by Jim Perry and junior Andy Long. The rhythm section includes Jeff Decola on piano, Joe True on drums, and Lisa Noke on bass.

Jim Perry received an Outstanding Soloist Award at All-State for his rendition of "Satin Doll". From Ellington to "Birdland", with Rochelle Johnson in her "Rockin' Chair", to "Ain't Misbehavin'" and Little Jack Horner, Jazz Choir, in their Miami Vice greens and pinks, had a wonderful year! Cherish the love.

On April 11, 1986, juniors go from class to class while visions of gowns and tuxedos dance in their heads. Tonight is . . . Prom Night!

Last minute details . . . corsages and boutonnieres . . . will the limo be ready? . . . Whose party are we going to first?

The big night "dawns" at 7PM, as limos, borrowed station wagons, even a van or two converge on the Best Western East. The doors open to glitter and glamour, as jeans and T-shirts are abandoned for this one magic evening.

As we entered it was hard to believe this was the same junior class we see every day! Long gowns, shorts gowns, tuxes, tailcoats . . . a sea of every color imagineable waited in line for formal pictures just inside the door.

Dinner . . . but no one ate much because, after all, who goes to the prom to eat? The excitement was too much! Finally the dance floor was cleared and the dancing began!

What an evening it was! An evening to "Cherish" (our theme song by Kool and the Gang) and to remember forever.

Everyone looked so great, it must have been hard to choose, but . . . finally the Queens were announced and crowned. Queen Juliette Clarke, assisted by runners up Rhonda Compton and Karen Lappas, symbolized the beauty and enchantment of this sensational combination of great moments. Julie, Rhonda, and Karen shared a dance with their dates and soon we all joined them. All too soon the clock struck twelve, but we weren't to turn into pumpkins yet! The night was just beginning!

The next day . . . sleeping late and sore feet . . . have to send those fancy clothes to the cleaners! But terrific memories to save forever. We couldn't wait to get the pictures back!

The Best of Times

The class spirit which was prevalent in all activities during our senior year was not missing in the Class of '86 Senior Revue, "The Best of Times". Under the direction of Mr. Robert Eagle, the two night affair drew rave reviews.

From the rise of the curtain to the final of "The Best of Times are now . . . ." the enthusiasm of the more than 100 seniors remained at a very high level.

Mr. Edward May provided the piano accompaniment and spent many patient hours trying to get us on the right key. The creative choreography of Miss Deborah Peros dazzled the audience. From the sultry "Tango" to the fast-paced "Charleston", the Class of '86 displayed some great dancing talent.

A highlight of the show came when close to 40 "men" strutted through the audience and then graced the stage in "When The Going Gets Tough". In their Miami Vice pink and blue, they left the audience in amazement with their dancing ability and acrobatic stunts.

Guest appearances were made by Mr. Harold Walker and our housemaster, Mr. John Graceffa in the couples dance to "Jailhouse Rock".

Masters of Ceremonies Ken Bishara, Marty Crowe, Bill Fredericks, Mark Romanowski, and Jeannie Loughlin started the show off on a comical note. Mark Proia, a Waltham High Grad, helped them with their impressions which included: Dr. Ruth, Bugs Bunny and Elmer Fudd; Yogi Bear and Boo-boo; and Joan Rivers.

Although many long hours were spent rehearsing for both singing and dancing, it was well worth it as many members of the Class of '86 got their first taste of stardom.

The best time ever.

The 1986 trip to Bermuda will be one of the best times of our lives. The sights we saw and the people we met are going to stay in our memories for years to come. The trip included accomodations, breakfast and a guaranteed good time. The Bermuda Strollers, a popular calypso band, was on display at several student outings and kept the good times rolling. One of the beaches the students frequently went was Elbow Beach where they were entertained by the Strollers and another band, The Sharx.

The students were seldom, if ever, bored, there were too many activities for the students to just sit around. Many students attended both cruises offered to them and some went to the various Public beaches located around the island. The night spots were crowded with students from all over Massachusetts and equally enjoyed by all.

Many of the students chose to rent mopeds and try their hand at driving them, even the most awkward of beginners were near pros the day we had to turn them in. I know because I was one of those beginners, and on more than one occassion tried my hand at trick riding. The sunny weather offered an opportunity for all to enjoy many outings of sightseeing and climbing some of the coral mountains along the beaches, during the day and at night. On clear nights, one could sit on the beach and be lost in the companionship of friends and the beauty of the ocean waves creating the illusion of a dancing moon. The only time you felt remorse was when you realized it was almost time to leave the tropical paradise known as Bermuda.

The future nurses

The Health Careers Program is a two year program designed for Juniors and Seniors to explore and experience the many professions that are available in Health Careers.

The first year of the program is made up of classroom study, clinical practice and field trips. Classroom study includes medical tasks and visits throughout the year from various Health Professionals explaining their occupations. The students visited Perkins School for the Blind, Lahey Clinic, New England Rehabilitation Hospital and Mass Hospital and School for Crippled Children.

During the second year, the student acquires first hand experience with these techniques and tasks by volunteering at various clinical health agencies on Wednesdays. They also have academic classes in which the students learn in detail the human body, it's diseases, causes, treatments and current community Health problems.

The students participate in four rotations: Waltham Weston Hospital and Medical Center, Fernald State School, Middlesex County Hospital and Marist Hill Nursing Home. At these agencies the students have a chance to meet people, care for people, implement their medical tasks, and learn how to act as professionals. They explore the many health fields and acquire a better insight into possible careers in the Health Professions.

Throughout the year the Health Careers Students were actively involved in two very important health activities. On November 21st the students ran the Great American Smoke Out. They perpared ahead of time by making their own anti-smoking video which they presented to the Middle Schools and the High School. They did a great job. On April 30th their efforts finally came together and the Health Day was had by all. Over 60 lectures, 60 booths with health information, 12 free health screenings, clowns, balloons; it was a huge success. Wonderful job ladies, you have a great deal to be proud of.

The future politicians.

It was during the school year of 1985-86 that the Student Council of Waltham High School truly blossomed. It began in the winter of 85 with the election of six members of a new group - The Student Advisory Council. This group was formed to represent student views before the Administration and the School Committee; This they did often and well. The first chairperson was Jean Loughlin, and she was succeeded by Jodi Mitchell. With their leadership and with the active participation of members MaryJo Bazarian, Suzanne Sliney, Steven Brown and Eric Keough, this group proved to be truly productive. During their tenure they successfully lobbied for more funding for the improvement of Harding Field, the extention of afternoon library hours, and the retention of valuable high school course offerings. They could be found sitting before the microphones of the school committee every other Wednesday night throughout the year arguing for student concerns.

The election for the 85-86 Student Council were held in June, 1985. Elected were: Suzanne Sliney, Presdent; MaryJo Bazarian, Girls Vice president; Steven Iannelli, Boys Vice President; Alyssa Lingos, Treasurer; Kirsten Rossner, Corresponding Secretary; and Karen Feeley, Recording Secretary. This group was responsible for a total rejuvenation of the Student Council and its activities. Working after school throughout the year this group sponsored the first ever Homecoming Parade, the second annual Student Santa Program, three school wide dances, two blood drives, two all sports rallies and for the first time managed the carnation sale scholarship drive. When they began their efforts enthusiasm for school events was on the wane and school pride was firmly re-established. As Principal John Regan at the end of the year banquet said "The Student Council, along with the National Honor Society, has created a degree of school spirit unheard of in our recent school history".

The outstanding seniors

The outstanding seniors were those who have demonstrated leadership and a concern for others. They have consistently dedicated their time, energy, and effort towards making the Waltham High School Class of '86 the best it can possibly be.

One of the most active students in recent W.H.S. history was the energetic Mary Jo Bazarian. Her list of activities appears endless: Vice President of the Student Council, President of S.A.D.D., Student Mayor of the city on Student Government Day, one of three Presidential Classroom Representatives in Washington D.C., participant in the Kennedy Library Workshops for young politicians, member of the Drop Out Advisory Council, as well as being a Class of '86 representative on the Student Advisory Council to the School Committee. She was able to perform these roles and others for her school, along with her participation in varsity soccer and softball and a student manager of the hockey team.

Truly a caring person, MaryJo seemed dedicated to the idea of leaving the High School a better place for students of the future. It is not suprising, therefore that when the Student Council initiated its "Student Involvement Award" that MaryJo was one of its first two receipients. As a special honor it was announced that this award will be named the Bazarian/Sliney Award in future years.

Andrea Ciampa was elected as the Class of '86 President in the spring of the junior year. Andrea was an outstanding leader for her class. She instituted creative ideas for her class and showed tremendous leadership qualities. I only had to approach Andrea once about a problem or a particular task and it was taken care of with class and perfection. She learned how to delegate responsibilities and made all her committees workable and productive. Her countless time, dedication, and concern certainly came through in the great successes of dances, Senior Dinner, Awards Night, and the Prom. A gracious young lady with a promising future who always represented her class, school, teachers, and parents with dignity. Her goal and concern as President was to award her constituents a great senior year and that she did.

I am proud to have been associated with Andrea. She, on many occasions, was my right hand person. Waltham High School will miss her, but she exhibits the fine finished product that W.H.S. is producing. The Class of '86 was fortunate to have such an outstanding person as President.

One of the people most responsible for the emergence of Student Government as a major activity in the school was graduating senior Suzanne Sliney. Sue was the President of the Student Council, the Co-Chairperson of the Student Advisory Council to the State, the Co-Chairperson of the Harvard University Student Advisory Council Conference, A Presidential Classroom Scholar in Washington, D.C., a participant in the Kennedy Library Workshops for young politicians, as well as participating in the school's athletic and cheerleading programs. Suzanne also served as Mistress of Ceremonies at the Senior Dinner and Graduation. As can be readily noticed Sue committed the majority of her efforts at making the '86 school year a rewarding one for herself and her fellow students.

This year the Student Council initiated a new award, "Student Involvement Award" to be given each year to that student whose care, concern, and efforts most aid the class. Suzanne was, along with MaryJo Bazarian, a winner this year. Sue will always be remembered at the school by the fact the award will henceforth be called the Bazarian/Sliney Award.

John Ventura is certainly a worthy recipient for this prestigious honor. Since John was elected Vice President of the Class of '86 in May of '85 he worked as hard as anyone could to offer his class a meaningful and productive senior year. His leadership, dedication, and above all his concern are unprecedented. He conducted raffles, assisted on all our Senior Activities and personally handled many of the problems with planning our Senior Prom.

John's greatest asset was his ability to get the job done and done with perfection. I could trust John with any task and many a time he relieved pressure off the administration.

The Class of '86 could not have asked for a better person to represent them. I wish John all the luck in the world, but I know he will be a great success due to his leadership and work ethics. Good Luck John, we thank you for all you've done for our class and school.

Being active and well rounded is an every day happening for Brenda Woodland. Brenda is a very talented young lady, she has been a member of our award winning Show Choir and Jazz Choir for the past three years. The last two years she was awarded Best Female Vocalist by the music department. This year she was also elected by her peers as President of the Show Choir. In the fall Brenda spent her Saturdays (all but one) on the sidelines cheering for the Hawks. The one she missed on the sidelines she spent as the Homecoming Queen of Waltham High School. Brenda also served as Vice President of S.A.D.D.. In the winter Brenda helped organize the non-school sponsored Bermuda trip for the April vacation. During Seniors Week Brenda was a very busy young lady. She was an active participant in the Senior Dinner, Awards Night, Class Day, and Graduation. At Class Day Brenda presented a 45 minute slide show for the seniors and was also honored by her peers with the superlative "Did Most For The Class". In spite of her many activities Brenda was elected to the National Honor Society where she was an active member. Brenda received many more awards and accolades during Seniors Week.

As you can see Brenda was a very active young lady. In her spare time she put together this yearbook you are reading by performing her duties as Editor-In-Chief.

SENIORS WEEK

Senior Dinner

MISTRESS OF CEREMONIES Sue Sliney.

The first event of Seniors Week was held on Thursday May 22nd. This year a dinner was held instead of the usual breakfast or luncheon. A crowd of 550, including parents and teachers, showed up to honor the Class of '86. It was an evening of last-minute looks, thank-yous and attempts to encapsulate three long years into funny skits and fond speeches.

The dinner was held in the "Sal Lombardi" cafeteria which was decorated for the occasion. The meal was our last one at Waltham High, but it turned out to be the best one ever. The reason was simple it was catered. After entertainment by our award-winning Show Choir and a few short skits it was time for presenting all the awards.

The first speaker was our athletic director, Mr. Don Prohovich with the announcement of the Outstanding Athlete's Awards. The Kenneth L. Harding Award for the Outstanding Male Athlete was presented to Jeff Lazaro. The Louise Sewall Award for the Outstanding Female Athlete was presented to Pam Vaughan. The receipients were presented with a trophy and an engraved watch.

Sue Sliney and MaryJo Bazarian were honored for their contributions to the school with the "Student Council/Student Involvement" award. Brenda Woodland was presented with the first annual Jack Delaney award for excellence in yearbook design. The award, a plaque and an engraved watch, was presented by Denise Deveaux the 1980 Editor-In-Chief.

The evening was brought to a close by our housemaster, Mr. John Graceffa. His closing words to the class were "You are the trend-setters. You found the spirit. We've become a spirited school, and you set the pace."

Senior Prom

The sparkling chandelier which lit the hallway of Lombardo's in Randolph was only a minor indication what the night would bring for the members of Waltham High School's Class of '86.

Sometime before 7:00pm, hordes of Chauffer-driven Cadillacs, Lincolns, and Sevilles crowded the parking lot of Lombardo's. Just as elegant were the prom-goers inside of them.

Once inside Lombardo's, people gathered in the lobby. Some couples waited patiently for friends to arrive while others waited in line for photographs.

A vast array of colorful gowns was apparent in the lobby. The colors ranging from the traditional white and pink to the metallic gold and silver. The styles of gowns were also different. Some girls chose full length Southern Belle gowns while others opted for the contemporary tea length.

The attire of the young men also varied. Some men chose tuxedos with tail along with a hat and cane and others chose Busboy tuxedos from the Dynasty collection. All men were either in black, gray, or white yet the color of their cumberbunds and boutinieres were as brightly colored as their date's gowns.

Soon dinner was announced and the six hundred plus individuals sat down to enjoy a dinner of salad, ziti, prime rib, baked potato,and peas. Entertainment for the night was provided by "The Entertainer".

The more outgoing people began dancing directly after dinner while the timid ones waited until the dance floor became crowded. Many couples only participated in the slow ballards yet the Fred Astaire's and Ginger Roger's of Waltham High School found pleasure in bopping to Morris Day's "The Bird".

After much hard work and decision making by the staff at Lombardo's, the three finalist for Prom queen were chosen. Sharon Gailius was crowned Queen and her attendents were Alicia Keefe and Alanna Juliano. Their proud escorts for the evening were respectively Gerry Finnerty, Rod O'Byrne, and Mark Crowley.

The Night eventually drew to a end and the prom song "Tender Love" was played for the last time.

As we look back and reminisce over the excitement and fun we shared at the prom we can truly say it was "A Night To Remember".

Graduation

HOW'S THE MUSIC? Rob Morvillo.

On Sunday June 1st 549 seniors received their diplomas before thousands of family and friends. The Address of Welcome was given by our Class President Andrea Ciampa as she urged her fellow classmates to "Spread Your Wings". Mayor William Stanley gave the greetings from the City of Waltham. He told the graduates and their parents that "I hope everyone is as proud of this class as I am." The Class Poems were read by Colleen Boudreau, Dave Foucher, and Jim Speer. Class Vice President John Ventura and Vocational Class President Scott Figliolini presented the Class Gifts from their respective schools. And then came the time for the presentation of the diplomas, a moment we had waited twelve long years for. From Alan Abbott to Alice Yu 549 seniors crossed over the podium and started on a new phase of their lives.

Commencement, a beginning; a start, but yet it is an end of one phase of our lives. We were so filled, but yet so empty. Twelve years of school routine is gone and friendships that we treasured will become sweet memories. Our last official act as the Class of '86 is history and now we are going our separate ways. From Maine to California our class will be spread across the country experiencing new ways of life. Some have left to go in the service, others have gone to work, while the majority have gone on to further their education. The memories we will treasure the most will be captured within the pages of this book. When we leave Waltham High this book will always bring back those "happy days".

Class Poem

Each of us
Destined to be acrobats
On the tightrope of life.
Each step
Brings us closer
To our dreams and goals.
We must perfect our balance
Or our dreams will shatter.
Yet if the rope begins to tremble
We are not deterred.
Instead we move on.
Searching and anticipating
The end of every coiled wire.

The Rime of the Ancient Mirror

Lo, be silent as it speaks,
Be still as it reflects;
Minutes, hours, days, and weeks,
The years it recollects.

Deep inside this looking glass,
Contained within its frame,
Are held the years that we have passed,
The people we became.

Back, look back, our lives as yet,
Look back to good times had;
Faults we see and won't forget,
Relive the good and bad.

Now the future we shall view;
A vision in the glass;
Thus revealing something new
Constructed from the past.

Although with hope this picture's filled,
It's empty; incomplete.
The future's ours, and ours to build;
'twill be our greatest feat.

Mirror, our reflection's done;
You've inward turned our eyes.
Towards this vision we've begun
The journey of our lives.

Awards Night

A FULL RIDE to the University of Alabama is presented to Scott Pomerleau by Mr. John Graceffa.

Thursday May 29th was a night for the students to feel proud that they were finally being recognized for their academic achievements. Mr. Ira Steinberg gave a rousing and passionate address of welcome about a handicapped youth. Vice-Chairmen of the School Committee Robert McGurrin presented the School Committee Keys to twenty-two students. And then the moment that everyone waited for the awarding of scholarships. Students, parents, and friends were not disappointed as one hundred and thirty-six students received scholarships totaling almost a half million dollars. Included in this were 6 Full Scholarships, they were; Steve Bolio - Cleveland State University, Gina Caci - Bentley College, Jeff Lazaro - University of New Hampshire, Paul Mayberry - University of Massachusetts at Amherst, James Masterson - Brandeis University, and Scott Pomerleau - University of Alabama.

Brenda Woodland, Marilu Bove, and Laura Rancatore announced the long awaited "Surprise" of the names on the yearbook plaques. This year we had 3 recipients. Mr. Ira Steinberg was awarded "Teacher of the Year" for his outstanding peformance in the classroom. Mr. John Graceffa, our housemaster, for his work in taking us through our time a Waltham High. Mr. Anthony Piantedosi for all the "extra" time and effort he gives on behalf of the students at Waltham High.

The night came to a close with refreshments and one of the last chances to be with our friends at Waltham High.

FOUR YEARS Full Scholarship to Bentley College is presented to Gina Caci by Mr. John Graceffa.

Administration

At Waltham High we are very fortunate to have a man in charge of discipline who is a strict disciplinarian, yet is also a compassionate and understanding person. Mr. F. Joseph Levey has done an outstanding job in administering the discipline and helping out many a student with a problem. His door is always open to any student and he is always willing to listen. He became very close to the Class of '86 when he took over as our housemaster for two months. On behalf of the Class of '86 I thank you for being there when we needed you.

When we arrived as Sophomores there to greet us and guide us through our years at Waltham High was our Housemaster, Mrs. Alisca Czarnowski. She was a kind, understanding, and dedicated individual who gave us the encouragement to succeed in a big strange building. At the end of our sophomore year Mrs. Czarnowski retired. She left with us the spirit to succeed which we carried through our high school years. Thanks for everything we'll always remember you.

Webster defines a teacher as a person who imparts knowledge or skill and a person who causes one to learn by experience or example. Here at Waltham High we are very fortunate to have a teacher who fits that description perfectly. This person made learning a difficult subject enjoyable. He is a great teacher, but also a great performer. His classes were always alive and everyone willingly participated. Each day when we left his class we felt high on education. Every class was an adventure that I feel every student at Waltham High should have the privilege to experience.

I personally would like to thank you Mr. Ira Steinberg because you have helped me and many others far more than you will ever know.

Ms. Elizabeth Collins is a very experience teacher. She takes great interest in her students and in her classes. She has traveled to a great many countries and has experienced life in many parts of the world. Her stories are interesting as well as educational. They teach us about the life and peoples of very different cultures. Ms. Collins is an active and concerned teacher, which are excellent qualities in a teacher, and which Waltham High deserves.

Loynd to Parrella

When asked if he ever found it boring teaching the same courses year after year Tom Leverone replied: "I don't teach math, I teach kids and kids change every year".

Mr. Tom Leverone is an outstanding teacher in life and in school who makes you want to learn. After being in his classroom a while you soon find yourself laughing and correcting your mistakes while actually having a little fun. Fun in math, it takes a teacher like Mr. Leverone to make that a reality.

Miss Sallie Russ is certainly a teacher who is a very special asset to Waltham High School. With everything she does both in and out of school she is showing that she cares about kids and the knowledge they leave Waltham High with. I wish everyone who came to W.H.S. could have her in class. She will always stay in my mind as one of the best parts of Waltham High School. I will miss her when I leave.

VOC-ED

Charles U. Hertigan

On January 3, 1986, Charles U. Hertigan passed away after a brief illness. He was an academic teacher for twenty-five years at the Waltham Vocational High School.

Charlie would have considered himself most unremarkable, but to those of us who were fortunate enough to have known him, he was truly someone special.

A widower for nine years, he raised his four sons, ages 15 to 22. He faced each day as it came and handled each new situation with intelligence and wit.

It was in the classroom that Charlie's care and concern were most noticeable. Charlie valued each of his students as individuals. He knew intuitively how to draw out each of them and make them feel important. They were special to him, more as people than students.

The students and faculty of the Waltham Vocational High School will miss "Mr. Hertigan" tremendously, but we are grateful for his having been a part of us for so many years.

Air Conditioning

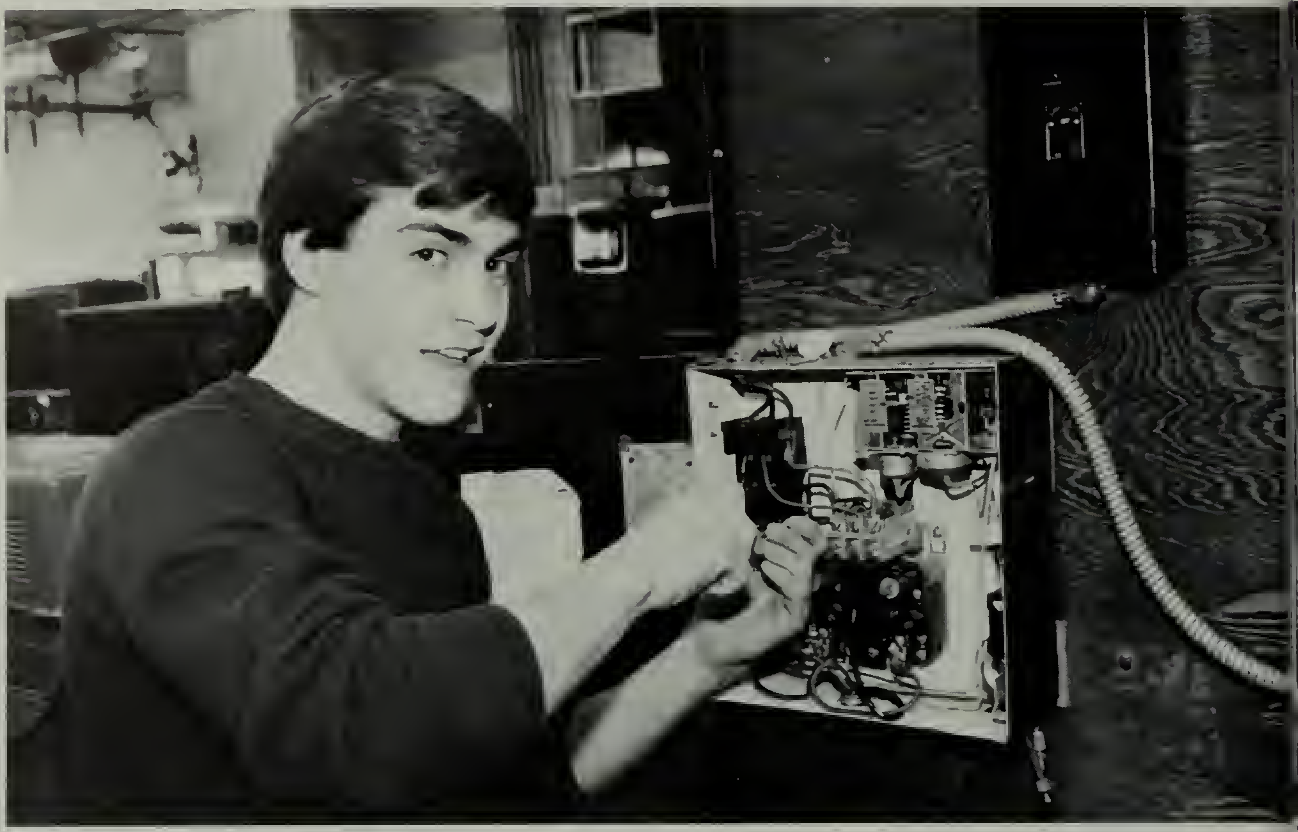
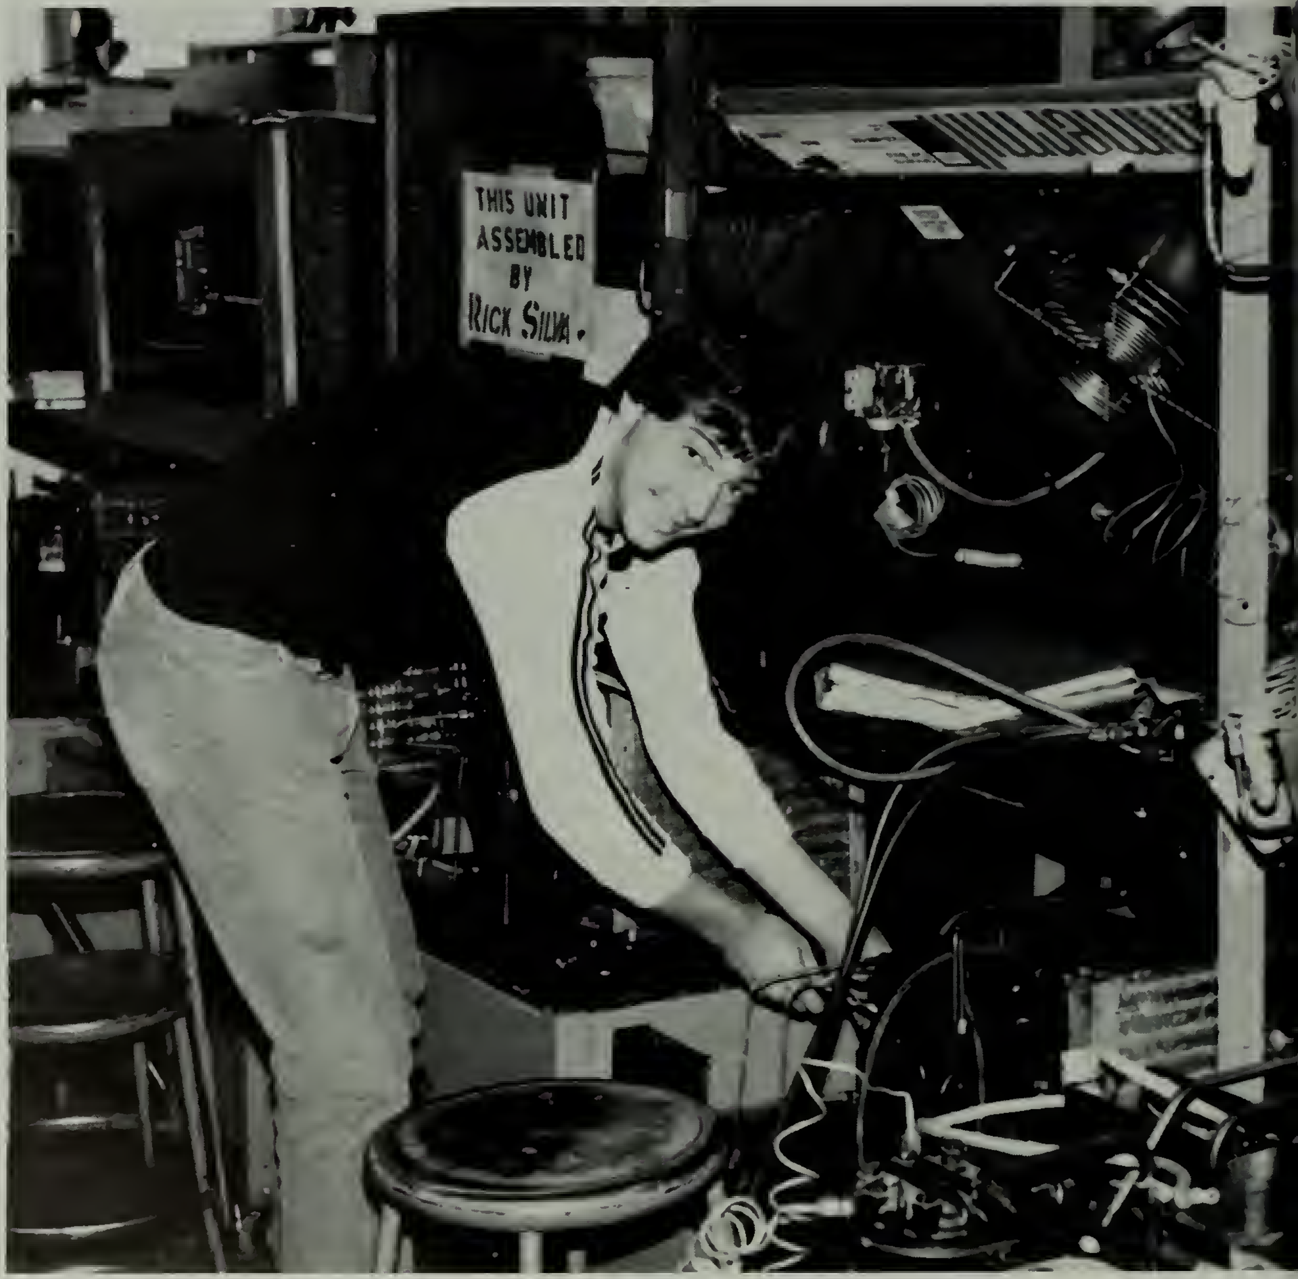
The Air Conditioning Department is under the direction of Mr. Irving Kardon and Mr. Edward Lannon. Here the students learn to install and maintain air conditioning systems.

Careers in air conditioning can be divided into four main fields: (1) designing, (2) manufacturing, (3) selling, and (4) installing and servicing. Engineers research and design air conditioning systems. Skilled machinists, toolmakers, cabinetmakers, and similar craftworkers help manufacture air conditioners. Technical training is essential for positions in sales and management branches of the air conditioning trade. Specially trained technicians service, install and maintain air conditioning units in domestic and industrial settings.

WATCH OUT you might get a shock Ron Johnson.



CONNECTING THE WIRES is Richard O'Mara.



HEY LARRY!!! What are you fixing? Mike Gaudet.

Layout by Brenda Woodland

. . . Fixing your dent . . .

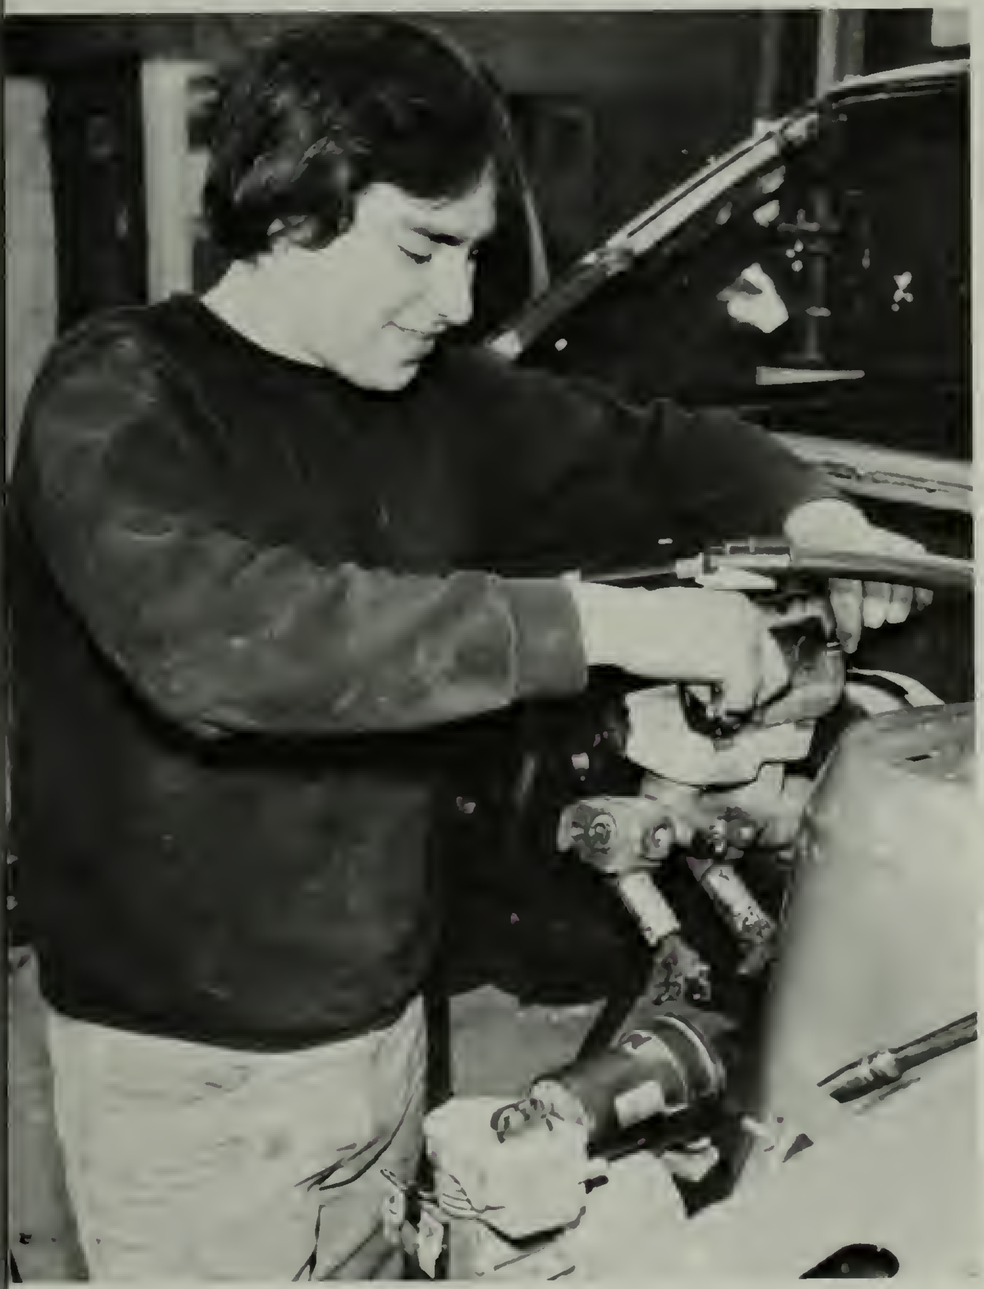
PUTTING ON The Finishing Touches is Dennis Horrigan.

Auto Body

The Auto Body Department is under the direction of Mr. Michael Hudson and Mr. Salvatore Scimemi. The students receive complete training in the craft, using the various machines, welding equipment and other tools that the craftsman use in restoring damaged vehicles.

In the Auto Body area students work in a fully equipped shop with state of the art equipment. Practical learning takes place in the shop using alignment equipment, spray booths, hydraulic lifts, hand tools, arc and gas welding equipment and many other such tools and specialized equipment.

Auto Body repairmen are skilled metal craftsmen who repair and refinish all types of vehicles. After three years of training students will have mastered the skills necessary for employment.



THEY SHOULD HAVE USED MOBIL!!! Steve Schofield.

WHAT'S IN THERE? Ed Aucoin.

Layout by Brenda Woodland

. . . Tuning you up . . .

Auto Mechanics

Every year new developments in automotive technology are introduced in the industry. The instructors in the automotive department keep pace with new technology and revise the curriculum to provide meaningful training in the troubleshooting and repair of all automotive systems.

Modern mechanics are highly specialized, and skillful technicians capable of dealing with computerized controlled systems and skilled in the use of computer assisted test equipment.

Students also learn the science and theory of the automotive trade.

LYING DOWN on the job is Paul Connolly.

UNDER THE HOOD is Nabil Boulos.

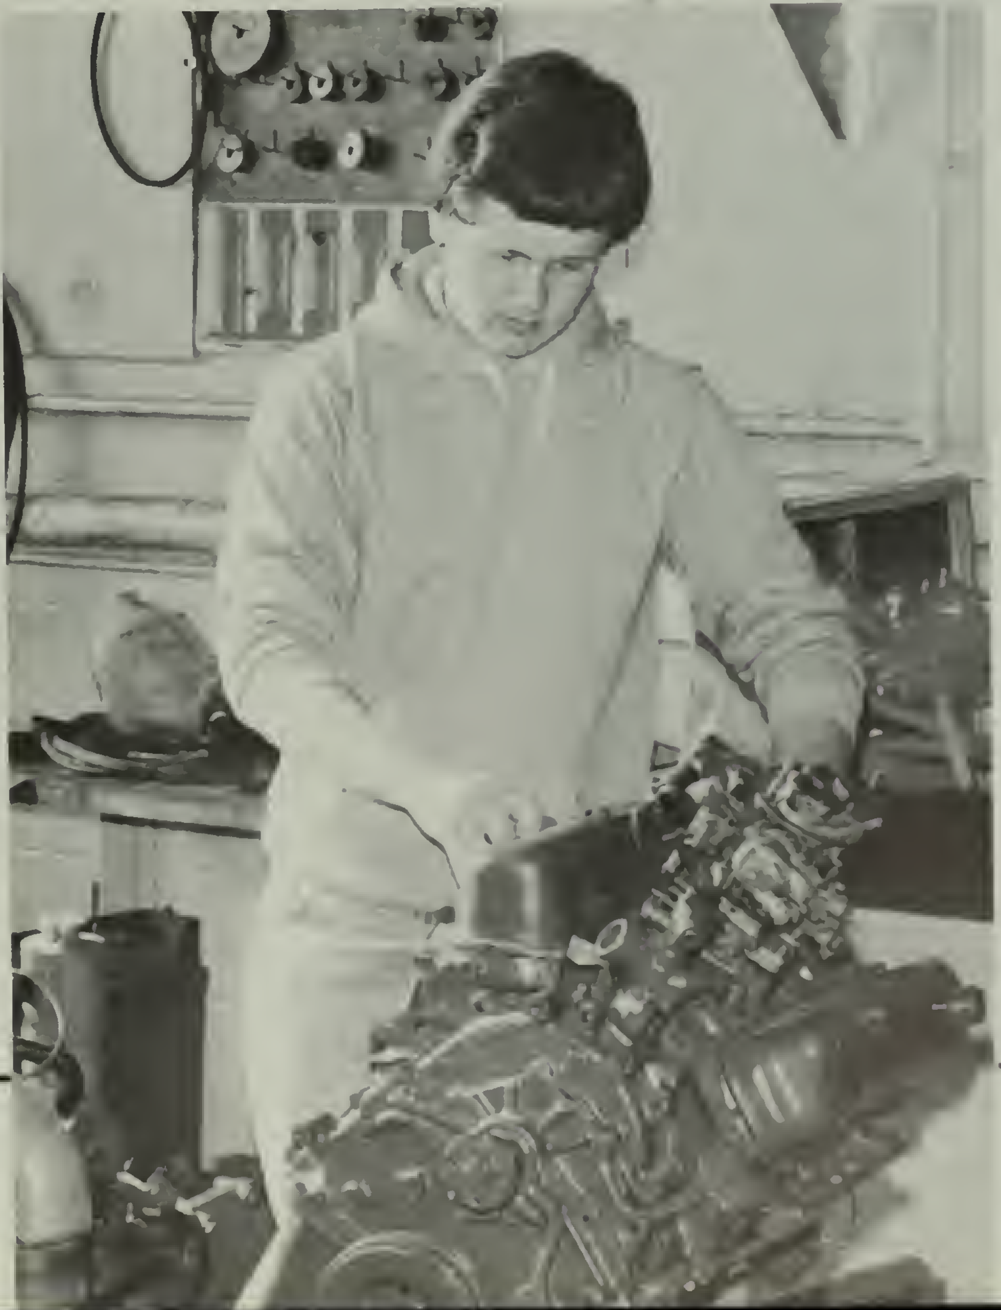
CHANGING A TIRE is Rich DallaCosta.

. . . Revving up . . .

SMILING FOR THE CAMERA is Darren Devoe.

HELPING OUT in the office is Ray Buscemi.

KEEPING IT CLEAN is Steve McDonald.



. . . Building a better future . . .

Carpentry

The Carpentry Department teaches the safe and proper use of all hand tools and power equipment used in cabinet making and construction carpentry.

Through the projects method of instruction students develop the necessary skills for the entry level employment in all phases of the woodworking industry.

JULIE, JULIE, JULIE do you love me?

WHERE'S THE LEVI'S and alligator shirt? Jeffrey Hough.

WATCH THE FINGERS!!! Darren Aucoin.

PAY ATTENTION TO YOUR WORK not the camera Kenny Felton!!

PRECISION REQUIRES CONCENTRATION!! Mark Mullane.

. . . Blueprints of the future . . .

LOOKING FOR THE TEACHER'S APPROVAL. Lori Smolinski and Mr. Wolfe.

Drafting

Drafting is the graphic language of engineering and design. All ideas for construction, machine design, coventional and specialized tools, robotics, etc., are drawn to specification by draftsmen.

Drafting is an exciting and interesting career that deals in the universal language of industry.

Students progess from basic drawing and detailing to the complexities of assembly drawings. Actual hours of shop practice using drawing boards and computer assisted drafting equipment prepares students for entry level employment in the field.

DREAMING ABOUT THE FUTURE is Robert Swartz.

"WORKING TOGETHER", David Dallaire and Gary Leger.

Electronics

The electronics industry continues to expand, offering more job opportunities to technicians. Solid state circuitry development has led to greatly improved reliability, longer life, and a considerable reduction in size of electronic equipment.

The purpose of this course to train students for job entry into the electronics field, such as electronic tester and electronic technician, in the areas of manufacturing, engineering, installation and maintenance.

Areas covered in shop and class include essentials of AC and DC, component characteristcs, basic electronic circuits and systems, test equipment and digital computer fundamentals. Work in the shop includes construction, assembly, testing and trouble shooting.

AN APPLE OR A WANG? Chris Salvo.

ONE OF OUR VOCATIONAL BEAUTIES!!! Carolyn Ryan.

''SOLVING A PROBLEM'', Brian Davidson and Rita Boulos.

. . . Machinist now and forever . . .

HITTING THE BOOKS is Danny Despres.

Machines

One of the continuing problems of the precision machinery industry has been the acute shortage of properly trained skill machinists. There are many reasons for this shortage, but the one that is most outstanding is the lack of training of sufficient apprentices by the industry. Therefore, it is the responsibility of the Machine Shop Department to train students so that they will be prepared for apprenticeship training in preparation for the more advanced phases of the machinist trade.

The students learn to set up and run lathes, drill presses, radial drills, milling machines, horizontal and surface grinders. Bench work, lay out and inspection is also taught.

The classroom work will encompass the mathematics and the scientific techniques, theory and programming of numerical control machines, and the processes of heat treating the different kinds of metals are all a part of the training one receives in becoming a machinist.

IT GETS YOU EVERYTIME, that penetrating stare. Tom Poirier.

YOU'RE ENJOYING YOUR WORK Brian Maher.

A.K.A. UNCLE ALLIE and Albert, Alan Abbott

Metal Fabrication

This course actually comprises three major specialties: Precision Sheetmetal Work, Metal Fabrication and Welding. Classroom subjects in theory, mathematics, sheetmetal drafting and blueprint reading add depth, meaning and value to the practicalities of the shop.

Shop practices provide skills in the operation of power shears, pressbrake bandsaw, Pullmax, iron worker and spot welding machines.

Welding is all-inclusive: heliarc, arc, oxyacetylene, oxyhydrogen; the welding, brazing and soldering of cast iron, mild steel, stainless steel, aluminum, copper, white metal, silver and plastics (where the process has applicability); and hand and machine torch cutting and burning.

The diversity and depth of training in this course permit our graduates to enter a number of trades and industries at entry level.

YOU LOOK BETTER with the mask on Zeke! Denis Cloutier.

Westinghouse

IT'S NOT BROKEN!!!! Frank Girolamo.

TALKING ABOUT WEEKEND ADVENTURES!!! Scott Figliolini and Joey Bryson.

TIME OUT For A Picture Mike McLaughlin.

A ROSE BETWEEN TWO THORNS! Pauline Doiron, Bobby LeBlanc, and Vickie Bennett.

Printing

The Printing Department course encompasses two of the major printing methods, Offset and Letterpress, with the emphasis being placed on Offset. Within the curriculum itself, the students are trained in the major areas of planning, composition, copy preparation, process camera, platemaking, presswork and bindery.

In planning, students are taught the steps necessary in the initial preparation that is involved in production planning of printed material. Experience in composition include makeup and selection of type faces, pasteup, camerawork, stripping and making of the press plate. In the press room, students learn maintenance and operation of small offset presses, platen presses, large sheet fed offset press. The graduate of the program will have a variety of skills necessary to enter many areas within the ever expanding printing field including computer assisted type setting.

AT THE LIGHT TABLE is David Spencer.

LOOKING AT THE FINISHED PRODUCT is Bobby LeBlanc.

Images Of The Year

ARCH-ENEMIES President Ronald Reagan and Libyan "madman" Muammar Kaddafi finally "squared off" as the United States launched an early morning air strike on Libya. The air strike was in retalliation for the many terrorist acts attributed to Kaddafi.

MEXICO CITY, two powerful earthquakes jolted western and central Mexico and left more than 7,000 people dead.

HALLEY'S COMET made its 30th recorded appearance, giving people a rare once in a lifetime opportunity to see it.

CONSOLING the families of the "Challenger 7" President Ronald Reagan and the nation mourned the loss of 7 true heroes. On page 19 we have a tribute to the "Challenger 7".

International

THE EXPLOSION of the Challenger leaving 7 dead and many questions to be answered.

PRESIDENT FERDINAND MARCOS is finally ousted from power in the Philippines. After a victory in a fraud filled election the people took to the streets and demonstrated their displeasure. Marcos left and took with him millions in cash and assets that the Philippine government is trying to get back.

A NUCLEAR MELTDOWN, the worst fear of mankind, took place at Chernobyl in the Soviet Union. The accident took place on April 26, 1986, but it was several days before the Soviets "admitted they had a problem". High levels of radiation were present in the air in Western Europe. It will be years before the true damages will be known.

Lady Liberty

THE STATUE OF LIBERTY stands majestically overlooking the Port of New York.

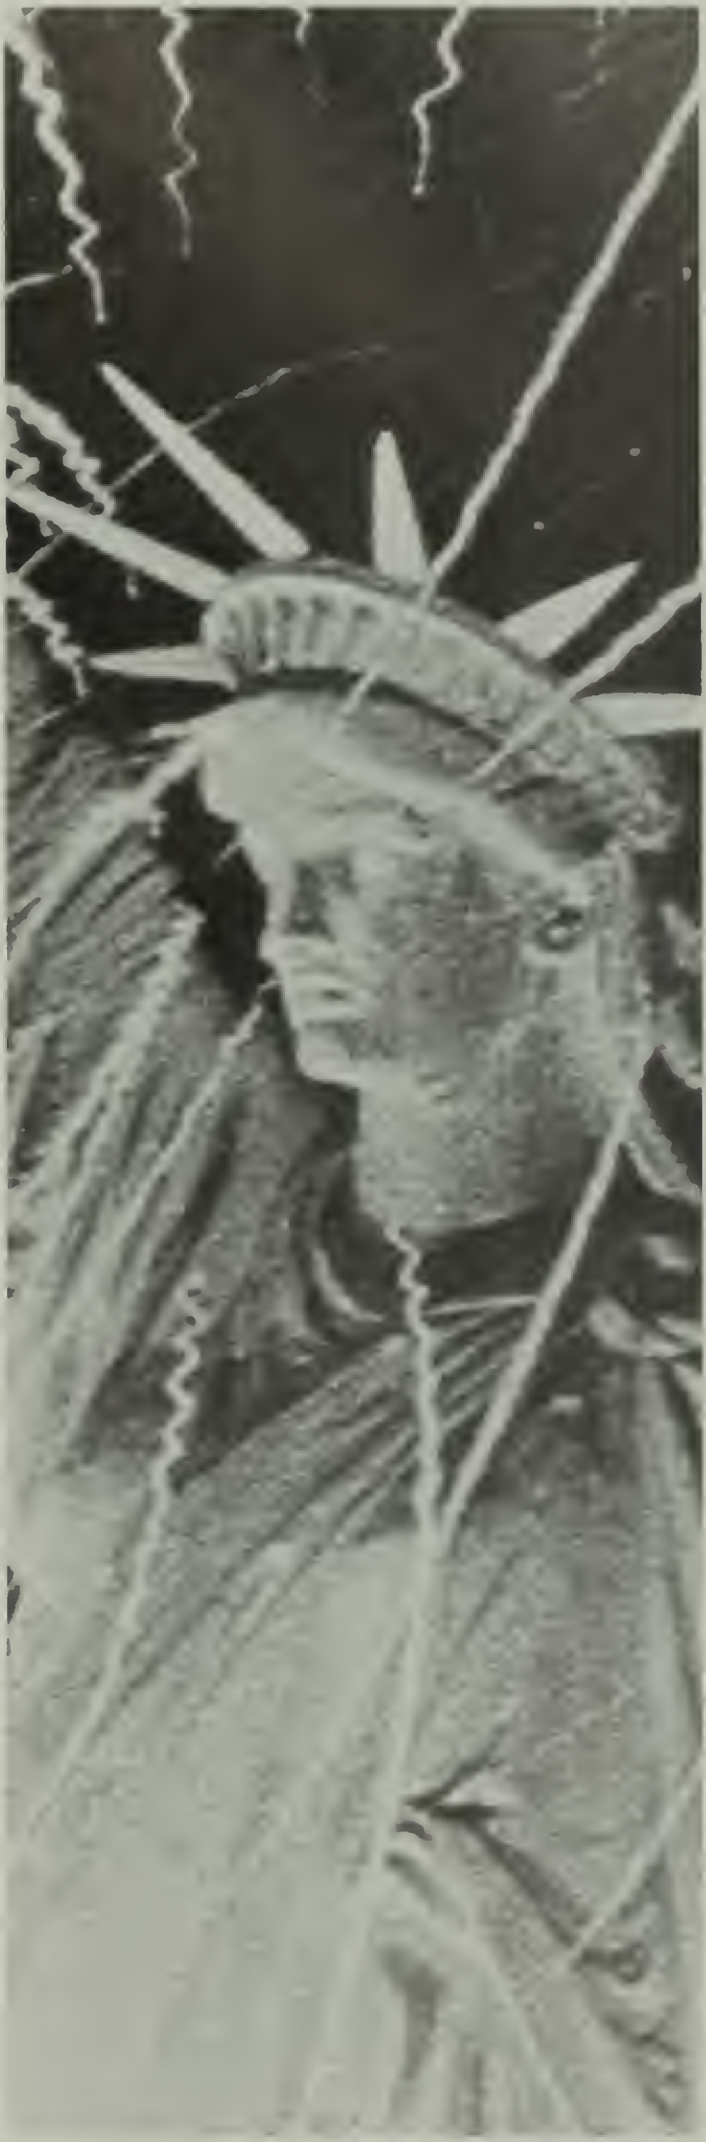
THE PARADE OF TALL SHIPS salute Lady Liberty on her first 100 years. Ships from all over the world came for the July 4th celebration.

THE FIRST VISITORS to the refurbished Statue of Liberty were First Lady - Nancy Reagan and several school children. They can be seen waving from the crown.

100 Years

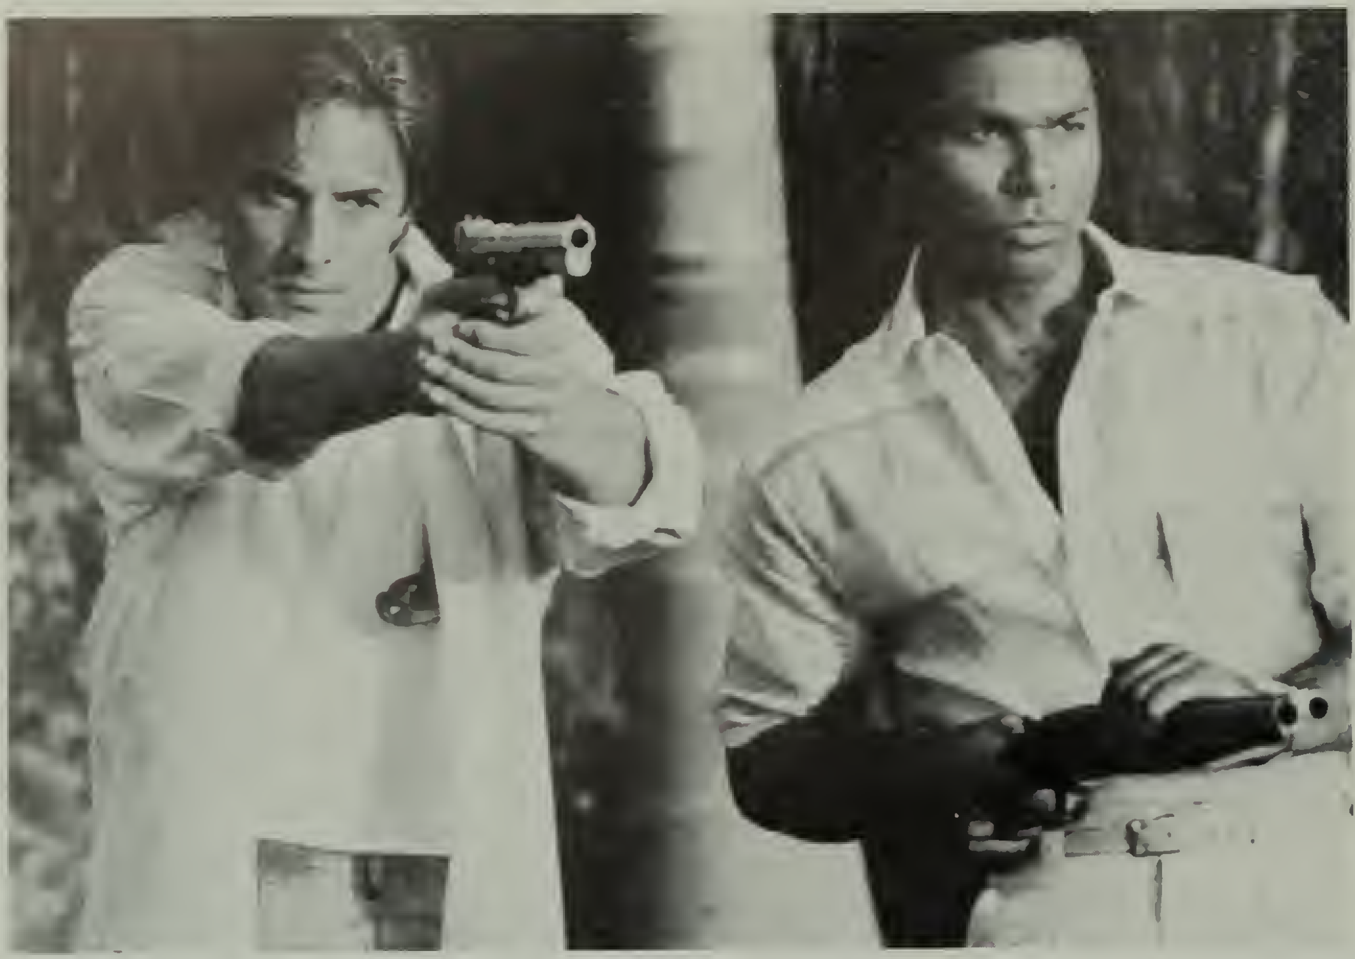
SALUTING THE PARADE OF TALL SHIPS are President and Mrs. Ronald Reagan. The President showing his true patriotism paid tribute to Lady Liberty during the July 4th extravaganza.

AMONG THE MANY THOUSANDS who visited the Statue of Liberty during the Summer of 86 were four familiar faces. Our Editor-In-Chief - Brenda Woodland, Bryan McDonnell, Kerry McDonnell, and our 1987 Editor-In-Chief - Stephanie Turner. They stopped for a brief visit on their way to State College and Hershey Park.



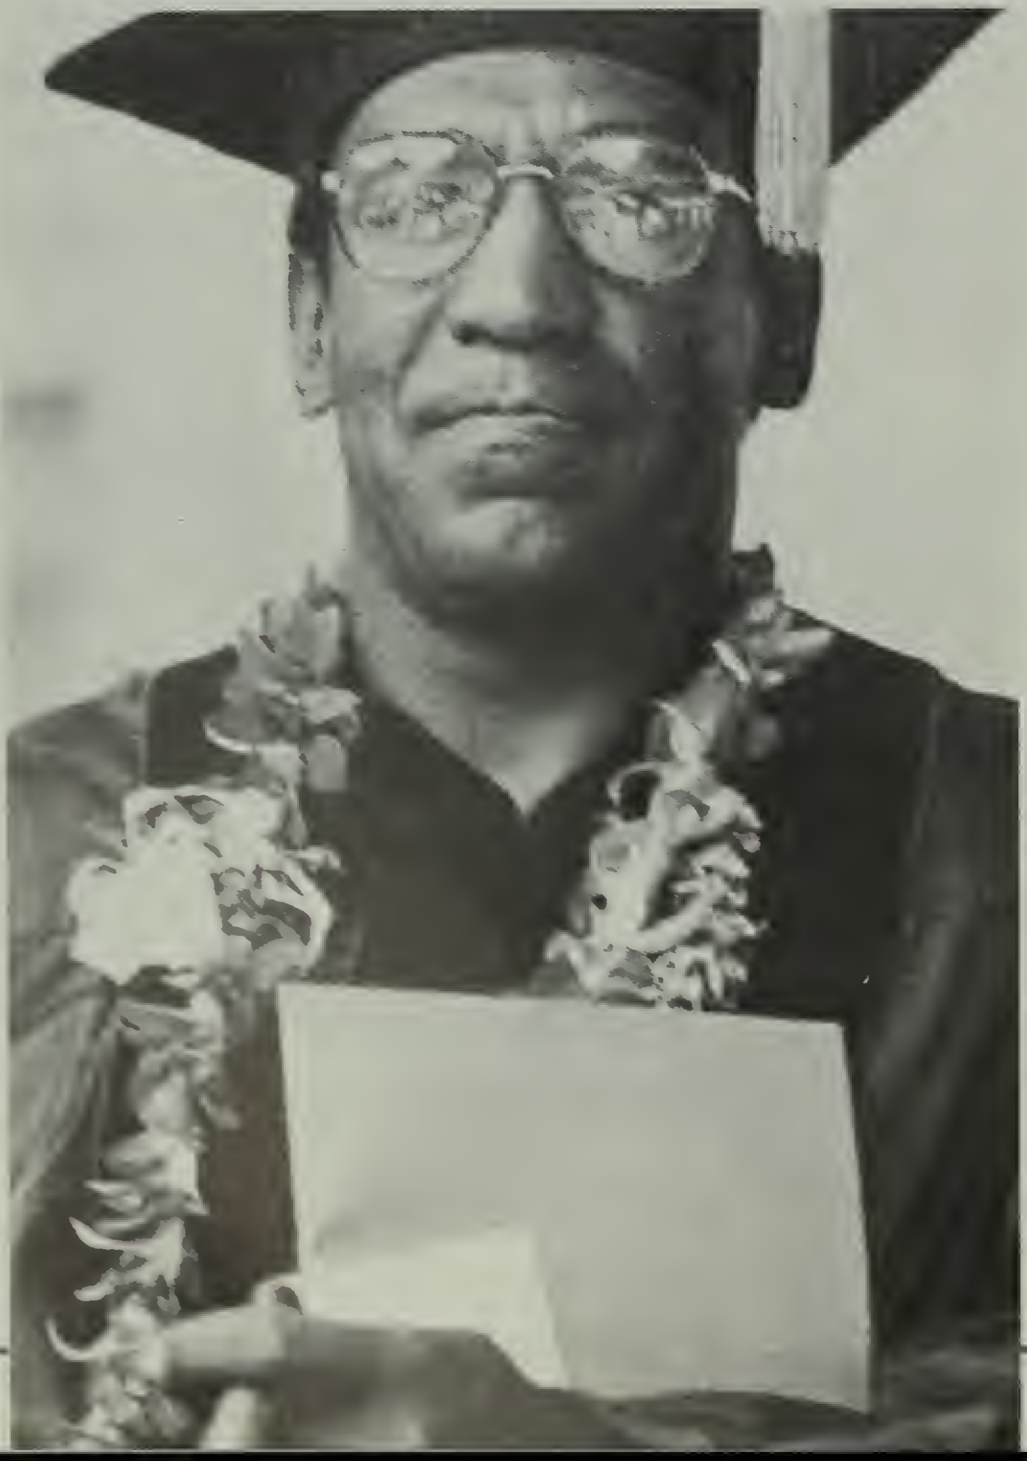
THE FIREWORKS LIGHTING UP around the Statue of Liberty was the highlight of the week-end.

Entertainment



MIAMI VICE co-stars Don Johnson and Philip Michael Thomas are the current "heart-throbs" of the teenagers, while also having one of the top rated shows on T.V.

THE COS Bill Cosby is currently the #1 rated entertainer in the world.



BACK ON BROADWAY Lily Tomlin has been playing to SRO crowds in her one-woman show. In June she was awarded a "Tony" as Best Actress.

THE BOSS Bruce Springsteen is still going strong.

THE PASSENGER VAN is the latest fad for American families as low gas prices have made driving the van more economical.

DEATH FROM AIDS was the reason given when actor Rock Hudson died after a two year battle with the dreaded disease.

DEATH FROM COCAINE was the coroner's report given for the death of Celtics #1 draft choice Len Bias of Maryland. Bias died 40 hours after fulfilling his lifelong dream to be drafted by the Boston Celtics.

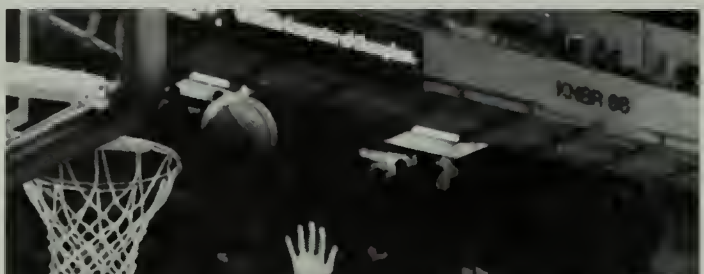
Sweet Sixteen

DRIPPING with champagne, Arnold "Red" Auerbach and Larry Bird congratulate each other after World Championship #16.

SURROUNDED by Rockets, Larry Bird had them "right where he wanted them", as he averaged a triple double and was chosen playoff MVP as he led the Celtics to the championship and a combined record of 82 and 18.

"LARRY . . . LARRY . . . LARRY" was the chant as Larry Bird captured his 3rd consecutive MVP. Once again the Celtics hung up the "Sold Out" sign for the season.

THE MOUNTAIN MAN, Bill Walton, arrived in Boston after a trade for Cedric Maxwell. His play and enthusiasm were an important part of the championship season.



THE CHIEF, Robert Parish, was once again the hub of the defense. In the picture you can see two faculty members of Waltham High.

LEADING the Bears to the Super Bowl was Jim McMahon. His play in the Super Bowl earned him the game's MVP.

YOUTH makes an impact. At the age of 20 Dwight Gooden of the Mets became the youngest pitcher to win 20 games and the youngest to win the Cy Young Award.

OVERCOME by emotion Jack Nicklaus, the Golden Bear, wins his 5th Master's Championship at the age of 46. In 1965 Jack won the Master's, the Canadiens won the Stanley Cup, and the Celtics won the NBA Championship . . . . . Dejavu.

THE PATRIOTS "Squished the Fish", but got "Berryed by the Bears". The Patriots had their best season ever going all the way to the Super Bowl before losing to the Bears 46-10.

BRETT AND BRET congratulate each other as the Royals come back from a 3-1 deficit to win the all Missouri World Series. Bret Saberhagen was named Series MVP.

DEDICATED TO THE CLASS OF 1986

Your Class of 1986
Soon will be leaving Waltham High
And fondly, and somewhat sadly,
You'll bid high school days, goodbye.

You'll take with you many memories
Of the happy years you shared,
With friends, and students, and teachers
While for the future, you prepared.

That some future now awaits you
As graduation nears;
You'll proudly accept the challenge
But you'll have your doubts and fears.

Take courage, you who graduate
You have so much to give;
You'll be the ones, who'll find the road
To a better way we live.

Your path may be to college
Or to busy industry;
Whatever you have chosen,
Do it faithfully.

Farewell, Class of 1986
Our hopes all go with you;
We all take pride and wish you well,
In everything you do.

Colophon

Volume 83 of the Waltham High School Mirror was printed by Jostens Printing and Publishing Division, 401 Science Park Road, State College, Pennsylvania 16801. The Jostens in plant consultant was Anne Holmes. The Jostens area representative was John Neister.

The cover was quarterbound with Midnight Blue material 451 with Cordova Grain and Black Velvetouch 535. Gold Foil 380 was applied to the lid and backbone. The book was rounded and backed with blue headbands.

The endsheets were printed in process color on snow white 280 material. The artwork for the endsheets and all the division pages was done by Liz Clements. The endsheet was printed on side D in black ink.

80 lb Matte #195 stock paper was used with black ink. The opening section was printed on Karisma Cream stock.

All photographs were taken by Purdy Vantine Studios, 100 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston, MA. The chief photographer was Mr. Terry Bleiler.

Of the 360 pages, 98 were printed in the four color process.

All headlines were set in Optima Bold as follows: Sports primary headlines were 48 point and secondary headlines were 18 point. Activities primary headlines were 36 point and secondary headlines were 24 point. Senior Week primary headlines were 30 point with the first letter printed in 48 point.

The body copy was set in 10 point Century Schoolbook.

Captions were set in 9 point Optima with the lead in 9 point Optima Bold Italic.

Kickers were set in 24 point Palatino Bold for the numbers and 14 point Palatino Bold for the title.

Senior Section portrait copy was 14 point Lydian Cursive for names and 9 point Garamond for the address.

Individual copies sold for $25.00. Engraved copies were available if reserved by December 1, 1985. The press run was 500 copies. The total expenses of the book were $35,000. The Publication date for the yearbook was October 12, 1986.

Acknowledgements

As Editor-In-Chief I would like to thank the following persons for the extra effort they put forth in producing the final product.

- Terry Bleiler and his brother Jay for taking the "extra" photo and giving that "extra" effort so that we could remain "Number 1".
- John Neister and his wife Lois for giving us all the new ideas and for carefully going over our work so that we may keep up our "Tradition of Excellence".
- Mrs. Joan McDonnell, Shawn, Kerry, and Bryan for their patience in putting up with me and my late night calls.
- Laureen Donovan and Dee-Dee Harris for helping me when I really needed it.
- Stephanie, Nancy, Kara, and Paula for helping to fill in the voids. I will always remember you as my true staff.
- Stephanie - Good Luck and stay away from "vacations". They'll do it every time.
- Mr. F. Joseph Levey for your constant support and kindness. To all the past editors, especially Denise for presenting my award, Gary for his advice, and Cheryl Creonte for getting us ads.
- Janet Boudreau for taking over some of my responsibilities in Show Choir so that I could clean up the mess I inherited.
- Mayor William Stanley, Mrs. Jane Gately, Dr. Albert Perna, and Mrs. Lillian Shirley for giving Mr. McDonnell and the students a vote of confidence with your votes.
- Anne Holmes for seeing that our wishes are carried out. You are our eyes and ears at State College. Thanks for caring for us.
- Jackie Roy for taking my official "Yearbook Staff" picture.
- and finally to
- Mom and Dad for putting up with all my tirades, with putting up with Mr. Mac and the Celtics, and most of all for pushing me to give the little extra to get the book finished.

Advisor's Note

The most important aspect of producing an outstanding book is fund raising. The biggest bulk of our fund raising is by advertisements. Each year we have an all senior assembly where we kick off our ad campaign. Any student that brings in an ad gets to have the picture that goes along with the ad. EVERY STUDENT IS ALLOWED TO BRING IN ADS. We find that this policy is the reason we get so many ads. If you see a student's picture in our ad section a large number of times it is because he/she "EARNED IT". Our thanks goes out to these individuals because of them 98 pages of our book are in color. And yes they are ALLOWED to be on the color pages too, we wouldn't have any without their help.

The Tradition Of Excellence Begun By You Is Being Carried On By Us.
